Charges Against Carr, Hensel Dismissed

"Whitewash" Cries Heard From Demos

Army Officials Rest Case; Cohn Sworn In For Testimony Today

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Republicans on the McCarthy-Army investigating committee threw out all charges against Francis P. Carr and H. Struve Hensel today in the face of heated cries of "whitewash" from the Democrats.

The charges against Carr were dismissed over the objections, also, of Joseph N. Welch, counsel for the Army.

The 4-3 vote on Carr and Hensel came after Army officials rested their case in the 21st day of the televised public hearings and Roy M. Cohn, chief aide to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), was sworn in to lead off his side's testimony tomorrow.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), one of the three Democrats opposing the dismissal of charges against Carr and Hensel, declared: "I think this is a whitewash and I do not think we will get the truth."

Symington announced he would appeal the action to the full Senate and would move for a further investigation by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

End Believed In Sight

The GOP majority, however, held there had been no proof of "pressure" charges against Carr, staff director of McCarthy's Permanent Investigations subcommittee, or of "blackmail" charges against Hensel, an assistant secretary of defense.

Thus the inquiry, now likely to end next week, narrowed to McCarthy and Cohn on one side of the fence and to Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams on the other.

The vote absolved the moon-faced Carr, who hasn't said a word in public since the hearings began, of Army charges that he, Cohn and McCarthy tried by improper means to get preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine.

Likewise the vote cleared the six-foot-four Hensel of McCarthy's counter - charge that he masterminded the Army allegations in the hope of warding off an investigation of his World War II activities in connection with a shipbuilding firm.

McCarthy has charged that the Army used Pvt. Schine as a "hostage" in an effort to kill the senator's investigation of alleged subversives at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Welch Also Protests

Both Carr and Hensel also were dismissed as witnesses in the inquiry—likewise over vehement protests of the Democrats and of Army counsel, Welch, who pleaded for a chance to cross - examine that "strong, silent man," as he called him—Carr.

McCarthy agreed to the dismissal of the charges against Hensel. The latter's lawyer, Frederick Van Pelt Bryan, agreed to this procedure, too, hailing it as a "complete vindication" of his client.

McCarthy refused to go along with that version. He said he was not withdrawing a word of his charges. But he said he'd accept

Vietminh Drive On Phuly Seen

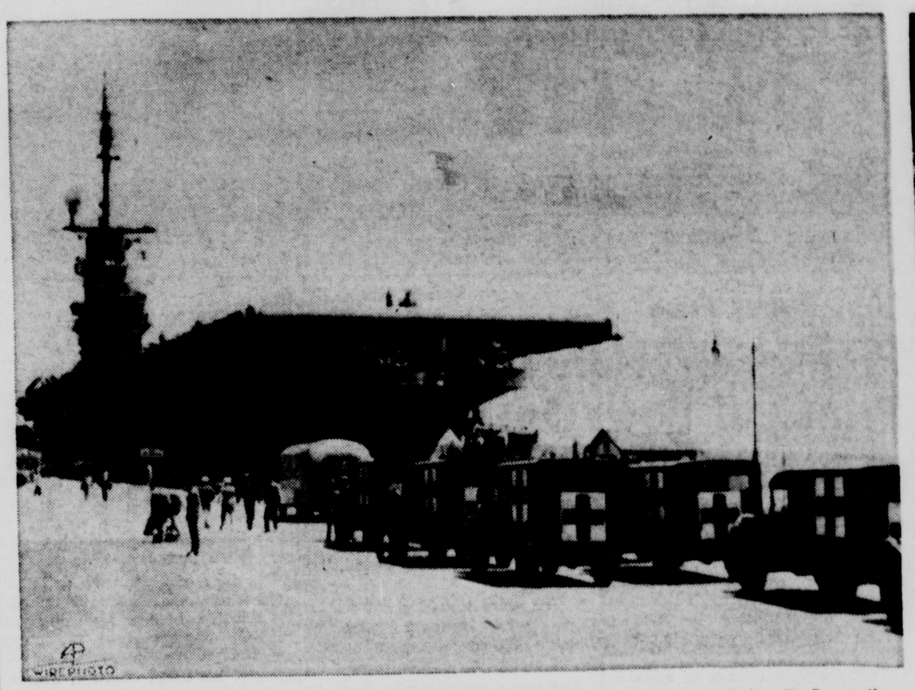

HANOI, Indochina, May 26 (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh tonight were reported building up fast for an all-out assault on the town of Phuly, 30 miles south of Hanoi. French soldiers used bayonets to drive infiltrating rebels out of half a dozen villages within 10 miles of Hanoi.

French military sources estimated that the rebels now had a fighting force equal to nearly two divisions in the sectors of Phuly, Nam Dinh and Thai Binh. The latter two are about 55 miles southeast of Hanoi and are centers of textile manufacturing as well as big rice market centers.

Only six miles away from Thai Binh, the French blew up two posts today under the protective cover of tanks, armored cars and planes, and evacuated the area. The two posts, Trannhe and Doaithon, had been subjected to constant encircling maneuvers and harassing night attacks.

The French air force announced, meantime, that it brought out the last batches of French wounded from the fallen fort of Dien Bien Phu late tonight. The last arrivals made up the total of 858 the Vietminh agreed to release.

11 Puerto Rican Nationalist Party Leaders Seized

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell today announced a sweeping roundup of 11 leaders of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party on charges of seditious conspiracy to overthrow the United States government.

It was not immediately disclosed whether the arrests were aimed at nipping a new outburst of terrorism and violence by Puerto Rican extremists, such as the bloody shooting affray in the House of Representatives last March 1.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said the party, founded in 1922, has a history "filled with violence."

Face Prison, Fine

Conviction on the seditious conspiracy charge would involve possible maximum sentences of six years in prison or $5,000 fine, or both.

Six of the suspects were seized in Chicago, four in New York City, and one in San Juan, the capital of Puerto Rico.

In addition, the Justice Department clamped down "detainers" on six other Nationalists, including four held in jail here on charges of shooting five Congress members in the House last March.

The other detainers were placed against two Puerto Ricans now imprisoned in the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn.

17 Indicted In New York

Following Brownell's announcement here, U. S. Atty. J. Edward Lumbard said in New York a federal grand jury today returned indictments against the 17 arrested or detained Puerto Ricans.

Lumbard said the defendants allegedly planned to achieve their goal of independence for Puerto Rico by "The attempted assassination of officers of the United States and Puerto Rico, including the President of the United States and members of Congress."

One Climber Dead, Another Lying Injured High On Peak

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, May 26 (AP)—One young mountain climber is dead and another lying seriously injured at the 14,000-foot level on towering Mt. McKinley after a "terrible spill" that ended a student expedition.

Two bruised and battered survivors of the tragedy brought the story here last night. A mission was organized today to try to rescue the injured man.

The four - man expedition of University of Alaska students or ex-students went up the 20,300-foot mountain, highest on the North American Continent, April 17. They had been listed as overdue 10 days. A search had started yesterday. They were found by chance by an unidentified forest ranger who was working on an outlying road job in Mt. McKinley Park.

The rescue party of experienced climbers will try to go by helicopter to the 8,000 or 9,000 foot level and then hike to the gravely injured man, George Argus.

Fragmentary reports said the five-day food supply left him in an improvised tent shelter would run out today.

The man killed in the fall down the sheer and icy slope was Elton Thayer, a well known Alaska climber.

The two men who struggled down the mountain with the story of the tragedy were Martin Wood and Leslie Biereck.

The report said the four were tied together when they hurtled down the precipice. Wood and Biereck found Thayer dead beside them and Argues too severely injured with a broken hip to be moved.

Leave Preserves John Paul Jones From Disaster

Tornado Causes Kansas Damage

SYRACUSE, Kan., May 26 (AP)—A tornado ripped through a part of this city of 1,200 on the Kansas-Colorado border today, causing considerable damage.

No one was injured in the storm which struck at 2:30 p.m. But two families miraculously escaped. The homes of the Tom Fitzpatrick and Charles Howard families were crumbled. Mrs. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Howard and her two children escaped unscathed.

Several other homes were damaged severely by the twister which moved in from the northwest—an unusual direction for tornadic winds. Most tornadoes blow from southwest to northeast.

The tornado struck the northwest part of the city, lifted and struck again southeast of the town. The business section was undamaged.

Red China's Advice Against U. S. Policy

GENEVA, May 26 (AP)—Communist China said today the best way for the United States to try for the release of 32 Americans imprisoned in China is through direct negotiations at Geneva.

The United States has not recognized the Chinese Communist government and American delegates here have meticulously avoided any direct contact with Chinese delegates.

Result Of NYC Control Battle May Not Be Known For Days

ALBANY, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—The bitter war for control of the vast New York Central Railroad was climaxed today as 2,000 stockholders assembled in a meeting marred by disorder and confusion—but the result of the fight may not be known for days.

The meeting in an armory recessed, after a noisy four hours and forty minutes, until noon Tuesday when election inspectors will report on the tabulation of stock voted.

Until then no one will have official word on whether the management headed by William White, Central president, will remain in the saddle or whether it has been unseated by the opposition forces of Texas-born financier Robert R. Young.

White said tabulation of the vote for the new board of directors would take at least until Tuesday when the election inspectors are due to make their first official report.

Young Claims Victory

But Young claimed an overwhelming victory.

"We have deposited proxies of more than a majority of the outstanding stock, so that if every share is voted we will still be elected," Young asserted.

Young, however, has been making flat claims for victory for weeks, as has management.

Three inspectors of election—each a law professor—are scheduled to go into session from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., daily, without holidays, until the vote count is complete.

One informed source predicted the count could take weeks.

White gaveled the meeting to order promptly at noon and promised that it would be conducted "In a fair and orderly manner."

But the proceedings were thrown into confusion an hour later, after White had disposed of preliminaries and the polls were opened.

Agenda Challenged

Mrs. Wilma Soss, president of the women shareholders in American Business Inc., challenged the agenda of the meeting.

"There should be discussion before the voting," she shouted. "I protest the legality of this meeting."

She mounted the steps to the platform and began to argue with White.

The meeting went out of control as hundreds of stockholders milled toward the platform amid noise and confusion.

Proceedings came to a dead halt as a uniformed railroad patrolman took Mrs. Soss firmly by the arm and led her back to the floor.

White ordered the polls open at 12:51 p.m. (EDT) and stockholders formed three long lines before a large steel-meshed teller's area in a corner of the huge armory.

Old ILA Wins Dock Election By 319 Votes

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The Old International Longshoremen's Assn. won a slim 319-vote margin in today's dock election, but 1,797 challenged ballots left the outcome in doubt.

Results of the day-long ballot box struggle between the ILA and a new AFL union by the same name were announced by the National Labor Relations Board.

The outcome was similar to what happened last December, when an election, eventually voided, was in doubt because of the challenged votes.

ILA, 9,110; AFL-ILA, 8,791; neither, 51; voided, 49, and challenged, 1,797.

There were no reports of violence—none of the knifings, skull crackings and pitched brawls that featured the original National Labor Relations Board election of last Dec. 22-23.

The rackets-raked, bankrupt ILA polled 9,060 votes in the first election to 7,568 for the AFL. There were 4,399 challenged ballots.

The whole election came to naught, however, when the NLRB threw out the results because of election area coercion and intimidation by the ILA.

Since then, the ILA has slipped badly—financially if not in numbers. Its known cash assets are down to $12,000 despite thousands poured into its coffers by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers (Ind.)

Fewer, Stronger Airlines Urged

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today made public an inter-agency report calling for fewer but stronger airlines and for orderly reduction and withdrawal of federal subsidies to domestic airlines "where appropriate."

The report was submitted to the President by an air coordinating committee which was asked last September to make a review of American air policy.

In making public the committee's recommendations, Eisenhower said the report "reflects this administration's central objective in this field—to strengthen American aviation." He added—the committee did the study job in a "fashion that could make its report a milestone in the progress of American aviation," and said further:

"In order to carry out this broad policy, the committee has made certain specific recommendations in such phases of aviation as air transport routes and subsidies and cargo, airports and airways, aviation safety, mobilization planning, and some aspects of aircraft manufacturing."

French Leader Called To Geneva From Indochina

GENEVA, May 26 (AP) — The French ordered a high military commander from Indochina to Geneva today as a showdown neared in the prolonged talks to end 7½ years of hostilities.

The French commander was called to the scene to sit down with an opposite number in the Communist-led Vietminh regime and draw cease-fire lines should the Indonesian conference adopt new proposals advanced by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Other Signs Of Showdown

This development capped a one-day pause in the Indochina debate which produced these other signs of an approaching test:

1. French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told a four-hour Cabinet meeting in Paris the Geneva parley "should take a decisive turn in about 8 or 10 days." A Paris spokesman said the Cabinet decided that if the conference failed to produce results quickly, the negotiations would be called off.

2. The Western Big Three and the Communist bloc held separate private meetings during the day to line up strategy for tomorrow's renewal of the nine - party Indochina negotiations, now more than a month old.

Eden Proposed Meeting

Identity of the French commander, expected in Geneva in a few days via Paris, was not made known here. Nor could it be learned whether the Vietminh also had summoned a high-ranking officer from Indochina.

Eden proposed yesterday in a four-point plan that representatives of the two commands in Indochina meet at once in Geneva to determine the areas within which rival forces would be withdrawn in a cease-fire.

Grammer, In Clemency Plea, Denies Killing Was Planned

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — George Edward Grammer, scheduled to hang in two weeks for the slaying of his wife, denied in a clemency appeal to the governor today that the killing was planned.

He also denied he had been in love with another woman.

Attorneys for Grammer, who is to die the week of June 7 unless Gov. McKeldin intervenes, told the governor Grammer's statement was a "story...never before told."

In a plea to McKeldin to commute the death sentence to life in prison, Attorney Joseph Sherbow said the killing was "an impulsive" and "stupid" act that came during a quarrel and not a "near perfect" planned murder.

The attorneys also maintained that pre-trial publicity hurt Grammer's chances for an adequate trial.

A letter the attorneys said Grammer wrote to go with his appeal for clemency said:

"I have not denied the possibility that I caused the death of my wife, in fact, it is quite probable that I did.

"I did deny then and still do and always shall deny the charges that I planned such an act before hand."

McKeldin is Grammer's last hope to escape the death penalty for the slaying of his wife in August of 1952. Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer, mother of three children was found dead in her car in what was designed to appear as an auto accident.

Today, the attorneys told the governor the act of sending the car down a hill with the body in it was the act of "a man in panic."

Asked by the governor why Grammer had not taken the stand in his own defense, Sherbow said that although he was not the man's attorney during the original trial, he understood Grammer believed he would later have an opportunity to tell his story in subsequent proceedings.

201 Men Hurt In Explosions On Bennington

Catastrophe Strikes Big Flattop 75 Miles At Sea; Probe Begins

QUONSET POINT, R.I., May 26 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Bennington was rocked by violent explosion and fire about 75 miles at sea early today bringing death and injury to scores among the 2,800 aboard.

Some 12 hours after the blast, the Navy announced a toll of 89 known dead and 201 injured. The announcement said the death total "may rise."

It was one of the worst peacetime disasters in U.S. Naval history, being exceeded only by the collision of the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson and the carrier Wasp in 1952 in mid-Atlantic. The toll then was 178 missing or dead.

The 32,000-ton Bennington was northbound in serene seas under a sunlit sky when the big ship was shaken by a loud explosion.

"We had just completed our first successful launching of the first of our air groups," said the Bennington's new skipper, Capt. W.F. Raborn Jr. of Oklahoma City, "when suddenly an explosion shook the forward part of the ship down on the second or third deck.

"Realizing a catastrophe had occurred we launched the rest of the air group to free the decks for casualty control."

Investigation Ordered

Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas flew on from Washington and after conferring with Capt. Raborn said he had ordered an investigation of the tragedy.

He expressed sympathy for the men of the Bennington and their families, as did President Eisenhower in a White House announcement.

Adm. John Hoskins, who lost his right leg in the Pacific, directed the helicopter rescue operations. He said many lives were saved by prompt evacuation by air.

He said the exact location of the explosion was not known but that it probably was in the general vicinity of the ward room. In naval parlance the ward room is "officers' country." If this proved true casualties among the officers might be high.

Secretary Thomas said a naval Board of Inquiry will meet tomorrow. He said search for bodies in the Bennington still was continuing.

Later Capt. Raborn said "I am damn proud to be commanding officer of such a heroic, unselfish crew of American seaman."

Fire Relatively Minor

He said he believed all the bodies had been removed; that the fire was relatively minor, and that the damage was caused by the explosions.

Some survivors said they heard at least three explosions.

The skipper of the Bennington said the explosion was near living quarters and that is why so many lives were lost.

Hoskins said a court of inquiry had been appointed and that he is the president of the board. He said hearings will be open to the press while non-classified material is being put into the record.

Navy Secretary Praises Injured

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas, returning from a visit to the explosion-fire damaged aircraft carrier Bennington, tonight praised the courage of the injured and the "wonderful organized effort" aboard the ship.

After inspecting the warship at Quonset Point, R. I., Thomas visited two hospitals and talked with injured sailors.

"It was wonderful to see them smile through their bandages," he said.

Thomas said he flew to Quonset Point immediately after receiving word of the disaster—one of the Navy's worst in peacetime history—because he "wanted to see that everything possible was being done."

The secretary said he wanted to assure the families of the injured men that "They are getting the finest medical care that can be had."

He said that he found a "wonderfully organized effort" going on, and that by the time the ship had docked most of the injured men already were in hospitals, having been flown ashore by Navy and Coast Guard helicopeters.

Thomas said chaplains and doctors had been hurried to the scene from neighboring installations and ships.

Weather Forecast

Old ILA Wins Dock Election By 319 Votes

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—The Old International Longshoremen's Assn. won a slim 319-vote margin in today's dock election, but 1,797 challenged ballots left the outcome in doubt.

Results of the day-long ballot box struggle between the ILA and a new AFL union by the same name were announced by the National Labor Relations Board.

The outcome was similar to what happened last December, when an election, eventually voided, was in doubt because of the challenged votes.

ILA, 9,110; AFL-ILA, 8,791; neither, 51; voided, 49, and challenged, 1,797.

There were no reports of violence—none of the knifings, skull crackings and pitched brawls that featured the original National Labor Relations Board election of last Dec. 22-23.

The rackets-raked, bankrupt ILA polled 9,060 votes in the first election to 7,568 for the AFL. There were 4,399 challenged ballots.

The whole election came to naught, however, when the NLRB threw out the results because of election area coercion and intimidation by the ILA.

Since then, the ILA has slipped badly—financially if not in numbers. Its known cash assets are down to $12,000 despite thousands poured into its coffers by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers (Ind.)

Fewer, Stronger Airlines Urged

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today made public an inter-agency report calling for fewer but stronger airlines and for orderly reduction and withdrawal of federal subsidies to domestic airlines "where appropriate."

The report was submitted to the President by an air coordinating committee which was asked last September to make a review of American air policy.

In making public the committee's recommendations, Eisenhower said the report "reflects this administration's central objective in this field—to strengthen American aviation." He added—the committee did the study job in a "fashion that could make its report a milestone in the progress of American aviation," and said further:

"In order to carry out this broad policy, the committee has made certain specific recommendations in such phases of aviation as air transport routes and subsidies and cargo, airports and airways, aviation safety, mobilization planning, and some aspects of aircraft manufacturing."

French Leader Called To Geneva From Indochina

GENEVA, May 26 (AP) — The French ordered a high military commander from Indochina to Geneva today as a showdown neared in the prolonged talks to end 7½ years of hostilities.

The French commander was called to the scene to sit down with an opposite number in the Communist-led Vietminh regime and draw cease-fire lines should the Indonesian conference adopt new proposals advanced by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Other Signs Of Showdown

This development capped a one-day pause in the Indochina debate which produced these other signs of an approaching test:

1. French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told a four-hour Cabinet meeting in Paris the Geneva parley "should take a decisive turn in about 8 or 10 days." A Paris spokesman said the Cabinet decided that if the conference failed to produce results quickly, the negotiations would be called off.

2. The Western Big Three and the Communist bloc held separate private meetings during the day to line up strategy for tomorrow's renewal of the nine - party Indochina negotiations, now more than a month old.

Eden Proposed Meeting

Identity of the French commander, expected in Geneva in a few days via Paris, was not made known here. Nor could it be learned whether the Vietminh also had summoned a high-ranking officer from Indochina.

Eden proposed yesterday in a four-point plan that representatives of the two commands in Indochina meet at once in Geneva to determine the areas within which rival forces would be withdrawn in a cease-fire.

Grammer, In Clemency Plea, Denies Killing Was Planned

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — George Edward Grammer, scheduled to hang in two weeks for the slaying of his wife, denied in a clemency appeal to the governor today that the killing was planned.

He also denied he had been in love with another woman.

Attorneys for Grammer, who is to die the week of June 7 unless Gov. McKeldin intervenes, told the governor Grammer's statement was a "story...never before told."

In a plea to McKeldin to commute the death sentence to life in prison, Attorney Joseph Sherbow said the killing was "an impulsive" and "stupid" act that came during a quarrel and not a "near perfect" planned murder.

The attorneys also maintained that pre-trial publicity hurt Grammer's chances for an adequate trial.

A letter the attorneys said Grammer wrote to go with his appeal for clemency said:

"I have not denied the possibility that I caused the death of my wife, in fact, it is quite probable that I did.

"I did deny then and still do and always shall deny the charges that I planned such an act before hand."

McKeldin is Grammer's last hope to escape the death penalty for the slaying of his wife in August of 1952. Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer, mother of three children was found dead in her car in what was designed to appear as an auto accident.

Today, the attorneys told the governor the act of sending the car down a hill with the body in it was the act of "a man in panic."

Asked by the governor why Grammer had not taken the stand in his own defense, Sherbow said that although he was not the man's attorney during the original trial, he understood Grammer believed he would later have an opportunity to tell his story in subsequent proceedings.

201 Men Hurt In Explosions On Bennington

Catastrophe Strikes Big Flattop 75 Miles At Sea; Probe Begins

QUONSET POINT, R.I., May 26 (AP)—The aircraft carrier Bennington was rocked by violent explosion and fire about 75 miles at sea early today bringing death and injury to scores among the 2,800 aboard.

Some 12 hours after the blast, the Navy announced a toll of 89 known dead and 201 injured. The announcement said the death total "may rise."

It was one of the worst peacetime disasters in U.S. Naval history, being exceeded only by the collision of the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson and the carrier Wasp in 1952 in mid-Atlantic. The toll then was 178 missing or dead.

The 32,000-ton Bennington was northbound in serene seas under a sunlit sky when the big ship was shaken by a loud explosion.

"We had just completed our first successful launching of the first of our air groups," said the Bennington's new skipper, Capt. W.F. Raborn Jr. of Oklahoma City, "when suddenly an explosion shook the forward part of the ship down on the second or third deck.

"Realizing a catastrophe had occurred we launched the rest of the air group to free the decks for casualty control."

Investigation Ordered

Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas flew on from Washington and after conferring with Capt. Raborn said he had ordered an investigation of the tragedy.

He expressed sympathy for the men of the Bennington and their families, as did President Eisenhower in a White House announcement.

Adm. John Hoskins, who lost his right leg in the Pacific, directed the helicopter rescue operations. He said many lives were saved by prompt evacuation by air.

He said the exact location of the explosion was not known but that it probably was in the general vicinity of the ward room. In naval parlance the ward room is "officers' country." If this proved true casualties among the officers might be high.

Secretary Thomas said a naval Board of Inquiry will meet tomorrow. He said search for bodies in the Bennington still was continuing.

Later Capt. Raborn said "I am damn proud to be commanding officer of such a heroic, unselfish crew of American seaman."

Fire Relatively Minor

He said he believed all the bodies had been removed; that the fire was relatively minor, and that the damage was caused by the explosions.

Some survivors said they heard at least three explosions.

The skipper of the Bennington said the explosion was near living quarters and that is why so many lives were lost.

Hoskins said a court of inquiry had been appointed and that he is the president of the board. He said hearings will be open to the press while non-classified material is being put into the record.

Navy Secretary Praises Injured

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Thomas, returning from a visit to the explosion-fire damaged aircraft carrier Bennington, tonight praised the courage of the injured and the "wonderful organized effort" aboard the ship.

After inspecting the warship at Quonset Point, R. I., Thomas visited two hospitals and talked with injured sailors.

"It was wonderful to see them smile through their bandages," he said.

Thomas said he flew to Quonset Point immediately after receiving word of the disaster—one of the Navy's worst in peacetime history—because he "wanted to see that everything possible was being done."

The secretary said he wanted to assure the families of the injured men that "They are getting the finest medical care that can be had."

He said that he found a "wonderfully organized effort" going on, and that by the time the ship had docked most of the injured men already were in hospitals, having been flown ashore by Navy and Coast Guard helicopeters.

Thomas said chaplains and doctors had been hurried to the scene from neighboring installations and ships.

Leading Tax-Exempt Foundations 'Foster' Red Ideas, Witness Says

Sargent Attacks Actions Of NEA

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)— A battle of words between Aaron Sargent, a California lawyer, and Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) broke up today with Sargent accusing "The Big Three" among the nation's tax - exempt foundations of "fostering Communist ideas in public education."

He named them as the Rockefeller, Carnegie and Ford Foundations.

Sargent also criticized some actions of the National Education Association.

Before the committee recessed until next Wednesday, Sargent also testified that the NEA has been pushing textbooks "stacked" in favor of Soviet Russia, and that the organization is governed "by a so-called liberal clique following the liberal line."

He said he wouldn't call the organization subversive but that he considers "some liberals" to be "non dues paying Communists."

An NEA spokesman said Sargent's charges "are by no means new . . .the NEA has been answering Mr. Sargent's complaints for a good many years." A fuller statement will be issued later, he added.

Hays and Sargent hooked up in a series of sharp exchanges. Hays complained that Sargent's sole purpose in going before the committee was to gain publicity for himself and "to assassinate the reputation of good Americans."

Sargent threatened to take action if Hays repeated some of his remarks outside of Congress where he would not be immune from prosecution on charges of slander.

"Don't worry," Hays snapped back. "I'm going to make a speech in Ohio on Sunday and we'll see what you do about it."

Hays said he would turn the record of the hearing over to Atty. Gen. Brownell for possible perjury action.

The Ohioan said he was getting tired listening to "an obscure character assassin." Sargent told Chairman Reece (R-Tenn) he wanted to testify "without being insulted."

Reece said he should proceed and added that he understood Sargent had the reputation of being "an eminent lawyer in California with very high standards."

Most of today's controversy was concentrated on the NEA, a nationwide organization of school teachers and administrators. Sargent complained that the tax-exempt NEA was illegally lobbying and engaging in propaganda.

NAVY WIFE WEEPS — The young wife of a crewman aboard the carrier Bennington is comforted by a friend as she weeps while waiting at Quonset Point, R. I., to learn the fate of her husband. The explosion and fire aboard the carrier killed 89 and injured 201.

Tales of heroism unfolded after the carrier docked here about 12:30 p.m.

Grim lines of crewmen, their faces smoke-grimed and oxygen masks hung over their shoulders, lined the deck of the carrier when she docked. Scores of ambulances and stretchers waited to spring into instant action in getting the injured to hospitals.

Helicopters had taken off some of the more seriously wounded as the Bennington moved slowly toward shore. They were landed in a field near the Newport Naval Hospital.

Ens. Robert Grant of Brooklyn, N.Y., unmindful of raw bleeding ankles, directed the evacuation of the injured.

"This was worse than war," he said with a tight-lipped, strained expression.

He told of the explosion blowing in a hatch and of "five guys" vanishing in the terrific blast.

He said some men formed a chain by holding hands and the lead man groped his way to the starboard side forward. Grant said he apparently went unconscious and when he came to he gasped: "Thank god, I had my clothes on." His hair and eyebrows were singed. Of his bleeding ankles he said:

"That's nothing compared to what happened to some of my buddies."

Capt. Raborn, who took command of the ship on May 5, said he is "mighty proud" of the way the crew handled things.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined, Capt. Raborn said. He placed the general location as in one of three or four "major items of equipment."

"The best information," he told newsmen, "Is (that it occurred) possibly at the 5-inch fuse magazine." But he added:

"This is completely unconfirmed and until we do get information I can only say it was a serious explosion at the third level on the port side."

"Whitewash"

The motion to drop the charges was made by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) and seconded by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill). Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) and Sen. Potter (R-Mich) joined them in supporting it.

Voting with Symington against the motion, and endorsing his "white-wash" charge, were Democratic Sens. McClellan (Ark) and Jackson (Wash). They whipped out a last-ditch motion to shunt Cohn aside and call Carr to the stand immediately. That was knocked down by the same 4-3 party margin.

There were two other developments:

1. The Army, as the last piece of evidence in its case, put into the record a list of more tha 250 telephone calls Schine allegedly made in his eight weeks at Ft. Dix. The names of the people Schine called were not made public.

2. All the monitored telephone calls between Stevens' office and the various principals in the McCarthy-Army controversy were delivered at last to Special Counsel Roy H. Jenkins, who was directed to decide tonight which ones might be admitted into evidence. Everybody but McCarthy, Cohn and Carr signed an agreement their calls could be made public without further permission. McCarthy and his aides had turned their phone records over to Jenkins previously, with the understanding the whole committee would have to vote on making them public.

The Hensel-Carr charges were dropped, and the McCarthy side moved onto the witness stand, after a morning of testimony by Schine's former company commander—and of various alarums and excursions by some of the investigators and investigatees alike.

The commander, Capt. Joseph Miller, said that soon after Schine arrived at Ft. Dix he made what appeared to be an offer to fix Miller up with a trip to Florida. Miller also said that last New Year's Eve Schine flouted his orders by leaving Ft. Dix.

Miller testified, however, that neither McCarthy nor members of his staff ever asked him to give Schine any preferential treatment. And he said that in spite of the "resentment," company morale was "not affected to any great degree."

Male Nurse Held In Girl's Slaying

TUCSON, Ariz., May 26 (AP)—An unemployed male nurse was charged today with stabbing a 23-year-old Lyons, Colo., woman to death and shooting and wounding a 33-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., man in apparently unrelated attacks.

Slain on the desert near here was Phyllis Mae Thompson, whose nude body was mutilated by 16 knife wounds.

James Clark, 33, Phoenix, was shot three times in another section of the desert, miles from where the girl's body was found.

Richard L. Jordan, 30, who said he was a former mental patient, was charged with murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Sheriff Frank Eyman said Jordan apparently had never seen either of his victims until a few hours before the attacks.

Eyman said Jordan signed a statement admitting critically wounding Clark "for no reason at all."

Investigators said Jordan told them he met Miss Thompson Monday in a bar, took her to the desert that night and doesn't recall what happened next.

Senate Asked To Cite Lamont For Contempt

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate Government Operations Committee tonight asked the Senate to cite Corliss Lamont, wealthy New York leftist, for contempt of Congress.

If the Senate agrees it will be a test case determining the right of witnesses to refuse to answer congressional investigators' questions on grounds other than the Fifth Amendment.

The committee, headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), announced the decision following a closed door meeting.

The committee also voted to seek contempt citations against Albert Shadowitz, of Pine Brook, N. J., and Abraham Unger, a New York City lawyer, also on grounds that they refused to answer questions about possible Communist connections, while declining, like Lamont, to invoke the Fifth Amendment.

That is the constitutional guarantee that a witness may not be compelled to give testimony against himself. All of the cases originated in hearings of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, of which the full committee is the parent.

The charge against Lamont is based on his refusal in closed door hearings last Sept. 28 to tell whether he was a Communist when he wrote some material that was quoted in a pamphlet used in a study course for Army intelligence officers.

Lamont invoked constitutional provisions guaranteeing freedom of speech and the press, but did not plead that his answers might incriminate him.

Shadowitz in hearings on Feb. 16 refused to answer any questions about possible Communist connections, contending he was acting on advice of physicist Albert Einstein.

Shadowitz was employed at the Kay Electric Co. in Pine Brook when he was questioned about possible Communist activities in the 1940's at a time when he had worked on government contracts in the Federal Telecommunications Laboratories in Nutley, N. J.

"Mr. Poker Face"

Frank Carr, Non-Talkative Principal, Bows Out Of Probe

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—At 4:38 p.m. today the only non-talkative principal bowed out of the Army-McCarthy hearings.

When the vote was taken, and Frank Carr was in effect acquitted of all the Army's charges against him, he took the verdict as he has taken everything else during these hearings:

There wasn't a trace of emotion on his round face.

For a month now tempers have been strained to the breaking point. Senators have yapped at witnesses, and at each other. Occasionally witnesses have yapped at the senators. And sometimes everyone seemed to be talking at once.

Except Carr.

Eight hundred thousands words have poured into the record, and Carr hasn't said a one of them.

The other principal against whom charges were dropped today, H. Struve Hensel, the assistant secretary of defense, also had not testified. But during the early days of the hearing he was there in person, saying a few words now and then and looking ready and eager to get into the fight. When he was excused from attending the hearings, he left behind him a lawyer of similar inclinations, Frederick Bryan.

But not only did Carr have nothing to say; he didn't even seem much interested in what others were saying.

A tubby blond of 39, with 11 years experience with the FBI before coming to the committee as its staff director, Carr looks like the man for whom the words "poker faced" were invented.

Even when he was being discussed, as he often was, he showed no more interest than if the talks were about the Mau Maus. From time to time, he yawned broadly.

Today seemed like a fine time for Carr to unbend. For now the discussion centered on him.

Joseph Welch, the Army's lawyer, described Carr as the "strong, silent man" who, even if dismissed as a witness, still should be called to testify.

"I cling to him," Welch said, "as a witness."

Words were tossed about freely. There was comedy. Such as Welch's modest comment: "I have sir, a genius for losing cases."

And some compliments. Such as those from Sen. McCarthy, who called Carr "The most outstanding young man I've ever met with the most outstanding record."

Neither comedy nor compliments moved him. He stared straight in front of him, like a Boy Scout leader receiving a routine troop report.

Six Killed In Feud

LIMA, Peru, May 26 (AP)—News dispatches reaching here from Puno in southeastern Peru said six brothers were killed and 26 men injured in a battle on the shores of Lake Titicaca high in the Andes.

The battle climaxed a long feud among farmers over ownership of land. The six brothers are survived by their wives and 30 children.

Adlai Lashes Out At Hearings, GOP And Eisenhower

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 26 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson today assailed the Army - McCarthy quarrel as a shameful spectacle and a symptom of an American constitutional crisis.

In his first major speech since a recent operation, the Democratic party leader attacked President Eisenhower for what he termed his "reluctance to man the barricades of his office."

He jumped the Republican party for what he called the sowing of disunity. The "blind dog Republican party" has forgotten the President is a Republican, Stevenson said.

These things, he said, may be the "work of evil or foolish advisers, but the point is that we can't afford fools or knaves."

Stevenson, obviously tired as the day wore on, was principal speaker at Meridian's first annual Hillbilly Day, and his polished sentences interrupted a day-long concert by hillbilly fiddlers and guitar twangers.

The public hearing of the Army-McCarthy battle, said Stevenson in his prepared text, displays a confused Republican party acting like "blind dog in a meat house."

"And," said Stevenson, "The shameful spectacle we have witnessed on television is a symptom of something deeper—a constitutional crisis in American government."

The conflict among McCarthy, Secretary of Army Stevens and President Eisenhower, said Stevenson, points up this crisis.

"I think we all know there is much more involved than a private in the Army," he told a crowd in Meridian Stadium.

The Army and Sen. McCarthy have quarreled over Pvt. David Schine, former member of McCarthy's staff on the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been investigating Communist infiltration.

Thomas Guilty In Rape-Slaying

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—William C. Thomas, 32-year-old Negro was convicted today on four charges — murder, rape, robbery and burglary—in the slaying of Miss Della Honeyman in her grocery here last Jan. 17.

The jury of eight men and four women deliberated one hour and 15 minutes before returning the verdict, which permits the death penalty or life imprisonment on each of the main charges, murder and rape.

Judge Emory H. Niles deferred sentence after defense attorneys announced they wanted to consider filing motions for a new trial.

The jurors failed to qualify their verdicts, "without capital punishment" on the murder and rape counts, making death by hanging a possible penalty.

Thomas admitted on the stand yesterday that he killed 67-year-old Miss Honeyman after she surprised him while he was trying to burglarize her shop. He also admitted robbing her of $4,700 which she had secreted in a sack in her bosom. But Thomas denied he raped her.

The defendant had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Zwillman Indicted For Evasion Of Taxes

NEWARK, N.J., May 26 (AP)—Abner (Longie) Zwillman, prohibition era rumrunner, was indicted today by a Federal Grand Jury on charges that he evaded $46,100 in income taxes in 1947-48.

The 22-member grand jury indicted Zwillman on two counts of income tax evasion—that he beat the government out of $22,018 in 1947 and of $24,042 in 1948.

The indictments were the culmination of a two-year investigation into the finances of the 49-year-old Zwillman, one-time bootlegger who now lives in a 20-room home in West Orange and insists he is a legitimate businessman.

Helicopters had taken off some of the more seriously wounded as the Bennington moved slowly toward shore. They were landed in a field near the Newport Naval Hospital.

Ens. Robert Grant of Brooklyn, N.Y., unmindful of raw bleeding ankles, directed the evacuation of the injured.

"This was worse than war," he said with a tight-lipped, strained expression.

He told of the explosion blowing in a hatch and of "five guys" vanishing in the terrific blast.

He said some men formed a chain by holding hands and the lead man groped his way to the starboard side forward. Grant said he apparently went unconscious and when he came to he gasped: "Thank god, I had my clothes on." His hair and eyebrows were singed. Of his bleeding ankles he said:

"That's nothing compared to what happened to some of my buddies."

Capt. Raborn, who took command of the ship on May 5, said he is "mighty proud" of the way the crew handled things.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined, Capt. Raborn said. He placed the general location as in one of three or four "major items of equipment."

"The best information," he told newsmen, "Is (that it occurred) possibly at the 5-inch fuse magazine." But he added:

"This is completely unconfirmed and until we do get information I can only say it was a serious explosion at the third level on the port side."

"Whitewash"

their dismissal in the light o' President Eisenhower's directive last week ruling out testimony about the role of executive department officials in the row with McCarthy.

The motion to drop the charges was made by Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) and seconded by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill). Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) and Sen. Potter (R-Mich) joined them in supporting it.

Voting with Symington against the motion, and endorsing his "white-wash" charge, were Democratic Sens. McClellan (Ark) and Jackson (Wash). They whipped out a last-ditch motion to shunt Cohn aside and call Carr to the stand immediately. That was knocked down by the same 4-3 party margin.

There were two other developments:

1. The Army, as the last piece of evidence in its case, put into the record a list of more tha 250 telephone calls Schine allegedly made in his eight weeks at Ft. Dix. The names of the people Schine called were not made public.

2. All the monitored telephone calls between Stevens' office and the various principals in the McCarthy-Army controversy were delivered at last to Special Counsel Roy H. Jenkins, who was directed to decide tonight which ones might be admitted into evidence. Everybody but McCarthy, Cohn and Carr signed an agreement their calls could be made public without further permission. McCarthy and his aides had turned their phone records over to Jenkins previously, with the understanding the whole committee would have to vote on making them public.

The Hensel-Carr charges were dropped, and the McCarthy side moved onto the witness stand, after a morning of testimony by Schine's former company commander—and of various alarums and excursions by some of the investigators and investigatees alike.

The commander, Capt. Joseph Miller, said that soon after Schine arrived at Ft. Dix he made what appeared to be an offer to fix Miller up with a trip to Florida. Miller also said that last New Year's Eve Schine flouted his orders by leaving Ft. Dix.

Miller testified, however, that neither McCarthy nor members of his staff ever asked him to give Schine any preferential treatment. And he said that in spite of the "resentment," company morale was "not affected to any great degree."

Male Nurse Held In Girl's Slaying

TUCSON, Ariz., May 26 (AP)—An unemployed male nurse was charged today with stabbing a 23-year-old Lyons, Colo., woman to death and shooting and wounding a 33-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., man in apparently unrelated attacks.

Slain on the desert near here was Phyllis Mae Thompson, whose nude body was mutilated by 16 knife wounds.

James Clark, 33, Phoenix, was shot three times in another section of the desert, miles from where the girl's body was found.

Richard L. Jordan, 30, who said he was a former mental patient, was charged with murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Sheriff Frank Eyman said Jordan apparently had never seen either of his victims until a few hours before the attacks.

Eyman said Jordan signed a statement admitting critically wounding Clark "for no reason at all."

Investigators said Jordan told them he met Miss Thompson Monday in a bar, took her to the desert that night and doesn't recall what happened next.

Senate Asked To Cite Lamont For Contempt

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate Government Operations Committee tonight asked the Senate to cite Corliss Lamont, wealthy New York leftist, for contempt of Congress.

If the Senate agrees it will be a test case determining the right of witnesses to refuse to answer congressional investigators' questions on grounds other than the Fifth Amendment.

The committee, headed by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), announced the decision following a closed door meeting.

The committee also voted to seek contempt citations against Albert Shadowitz, of Pine Brook, N. J., and Abraham Unger, a New York City lawyer, also on grounds that they refused to answer questions about possible Communist connections, while declining, like Lamont, to invoke the Fifth Amendment.

That is the constitutional guarantee that a witness may not be compelled to give testimony against himself. All of the cases originated in hearings of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, of which the full committee is the parent.

The charge against Lamont is based on his refusal in closed door hearings last Sept. 28 to tell whether he was a Communist when he wrote some material that was quoted in a pamphlet used in a study course for Army intelligence officers.

Lamont invoked constitutional provisions guaranteeing freedom of speech and the press, but did not plead that his answers might incriminate him.

Shadowitz in hearings on Feb. 16 refused to answer any questions about possible Communist connections, contending he was acting on advice of physicist Albert Einstein.

Shadowitz was employed at the Kay Electric Co. in Pine Brook when he was questioned about possible Communist activities in the 1940's at a time when he had worked on government contracts in the Federal Telecommunications Laboratories in Nutley, N. J.

Work On Washington Co. Health Center To Begin

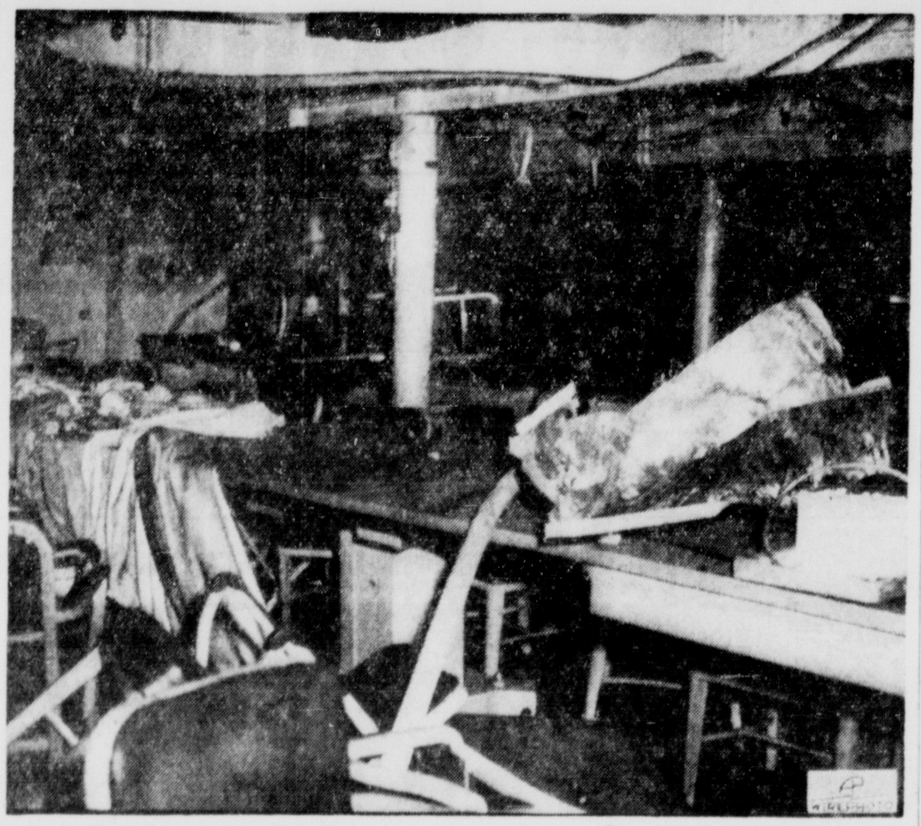

HAGERSTOWN, May 26 (AP)—The cornerstone for Washington County's new three-story health center building will be laid June 2, it was announced today.

The modern structure is a gift to the county from Andrew K. Coffman, Hagerstown undertaker, and his wife. It is to be called the Coffman Health Center.

The structure will be located on the 70-acre tract which is the site of the Western Maryland Chronic Disease Hospital.

"Mr. Poker Face"

Frank Carr, Non-Talkative Principal, Bows Out Of Probe

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—At 4:38 p.m. today the only non-talkative principal bowed out of the Army-McCarthy hearings.

When the vote was taken, and Frank Carr was in effect acquitted of all the Army's charges against him, he took the verdict as he has taken everything else during these hearings:

There wasn't a trace of emotion on his round face.

For a month now tempers have been strained to the breaking point. Senators have yapped at witnesses, and at each other. Occasionally witnesses have yapped at the senators. And sometimes everyone seemed to be talking at once.

Except Carr.

Eight hundred thousands words have poured into the record, and Carr hasn't said a one of them.

The other principal against whom charges were dropped today, H. Struve Hensel, the assistant secretary of defense, also had not testified. But during the early days of the hearing he was there in person, saying a few words now and then and looking ready and eager to get into the fight. When he was excused from attending the hearings, he left behind him a lawyer of similar inclinations, Frederick Bryan.

But not only did Carr have nothing to say; he didn't even seem much interested in what others were saying.

A tubby blond of 39, with 11 years experience with the FBI before coming to the committee as its staff director, Carr looks like the man for whom the words "poker faced" were invented.

Even when he was being discussed, as he often was, he showed no more interest than if the talks were about the Mau Maus. From time to time, he yawned broadly.

Today seemed like a fine time for Carr to unbend. For now the discussion centered on him.

Joseph Welch, the Army's lawyer, described Carr as the "strong, silent man" who, even if dismissed as a witness, still should be called to testify.

"I cling to him," Welch said, "as a witness."

Words were tossed about freely. There was comedy. Such as Welch's modest comment: "I have sir, a genius for losing cases."

And some compliments. Such as those from Sen. McCarthy, who called Carr "The most outstanding young man I've ever met with the most outstanding record."

Neither comedy nor compliments moved him. He stared straight in front of him, like a Boy Scout leader receiving a routine troop report.

Six Killed In Feud

LIMA, Peru, May 26 (AP)—News dispatches reaching here from Puno in southeastern Peru said six brothers were killed and 26 men injured in a battle on the shores of Lake Titicaca high in the Andes.

The battle climaxed a long feud among farmers over ownership of land. The six brothers are survived by their wives and 30 children.

Thomas Guilty In Rape-Slaying

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—William C. Thomas, 32-year-old Negro was convicted today on four charges — murder, rape, robbery and burglary—in the slaying of Miss Della Honeyman in her grocery here last Jan. 17.

The jury of eight men and four women deliberated one hour and 15 minutes before returning the verdict, which permits the death penalty or life imprisonment on each of the main charges, murder and rape.

Judge Emory H. Niles deferred sentence after defense attorneys announced they wanted to consider filing motions for a new trial.

The jurors failed to qualify their verdicts, "without capital punishment" on the murder and rape counts, making death by hanging a possible penalty.

Thomas admitted on the stand yesterday that he killed 67-year-old Miss Honeyman after she surprised him while he was trying to burglarize her shop. He also admitted robbing her of $4,700 which she had secreted in a sack in her bosom. But Thomas denied he raped her.

The defendant had pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Adlai Lashes Out At Hearings, GOP And Eisenhower

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 26 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson today assailed the Army - McCarthy quarrel as a shameful spectacle and a symptom of an American constitutional crisis.

In his first major speech since a recent operation, the Democratic party leader attacked President Eisenhower for what he termed his "reluctance to man the barricades of his office."

He jumped the Republican party for what he called the sowing of disunity. The "blind dog Republican party" has forgotten the President is a Republican, Stevenson said.

These things, he said, may be the "work of evil or foolish advisers, but the point is that we can't afford fools or knaves."

Stevenson, obviously tired as the day wore on, was principal speaker at Meridian's first annual Hillbilly Day, and his polished sentences interrupted a day-long concert by hillbilly fiddlers and guitar twangers.

The public hearing of the Army-McCarthy battle, said Stevenson in his prepared text, displays a confused Republican party acting like "blind dog in a meat house."

"And," said Stevenson, "The shameful spectacle we have witnessed on television is a symptom of something deeper—a constitutional crisis in American government."

The conflict among McCarthy, Secretary of Army Stevens and President Eisenhower, said Stevenson, points up this crisis.

"I think we all know there is much more involved than a private in the Army," he told a crowd in Meridian Stadium.

The Army and Sen. McCarthy have quarreled over Pvt. David Schine, former member of McCarthy's staff on the Senate Investigations subcommittee, which has been investigating Communist infiltration.

Zwillman Indicted For Evasion Of Taxes

NEWARK, N.J., May 26 (AP)—Abner (Longie) Zwillman, prohibition era rumrunner, was indicted today by a Federal Grand Jury on charges that he evaded $46,100 in income taxes in 1947-48.

The 22-member grand jury indicted Zwillman on two counts of income tax evasion—that he beat the government out of $22,018 in 1947 and of $24,042 in 1948.

The indictments were the culmination of a two-year investigation into the finances of the 49-year-old Zwillman, one-time bootlegger who now lives in a 20-room home in West Orange and insists he is a legitimate businessman.

"Slow Down And Live"

Maryland To Join 23 Other States In Summer Highway Safety Drive

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Maryland joins with 23 other states Friday night to open a summer highway safety program keyed to the slogan, "Slow Down and Live."

The campaign is patterned after one conducted last year by 11 northeastern states from Maine to Maryland.

This year it has been expanded to take in states from Maine to Texas and will extend from Friday at 6 p.m. to the end of the Labor Day weekend.

State, county and local police departments will work closely with traffic courts in the participating states in an all-out effort to cut down the normal summertime rise in highway fatalities.

Last month, Gov. McKeldin joined with the chief executives of the other 23 states in a declaration that said in part:

"We are convinced that the many courteous, cautious drivers suffer at the hands of those who are obsessed with the 'in a hurry' complex. This state of mind manifests itself in excessive speed, in speed too fast for conditions, in following too closely, in failing to yield the right of way and in improper passing."

However, officials of the safety program stress that they are not trying to set up a "gigantic speed trap."

Paul E. Burke, director of the Maryland Traffic Commission and chairman of the northeastern group, said, "The sole purpose of this drive is the saving of lives on the highway. Each state is determined to achieve this end through stepped-up enforcement by its own police and other enforcement agencies of its own state and local traffic laws as they now exist.

"Residents and visiting drivers alike have been put on notice that the states participating in this drive intend to make their highways safer for all who use them during this vacation season. It remains for the individual driver to change his own bad driving habits, or else face the consequences," said Burke.

Safety experts credited last year's campaign with producing a 3 per cent decrease in fatalities in June, July and August as compared with the previous year.

States taking part in the program last year included Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

This year they are joined by Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—Maryland and District of Columbia users of natural gas from the Washington Gas Light Co. probably are going to pay a little less for awhile.

The company went through the formality today of asking the public service commissions in the two areas for permission to give its customers a refund.

The utility for a period from last year until Feb. 28 had been charging its customers more to pay high wholesale costs to the Atlantic Seaboard Corp. Now it has received a refund of $733,971 from its supplier and will redistribute it to the customers.

The company said District of Columbia customers will receive $474,149 and Marylanders $259,822.

The refund will be made in the form of credits on monthly bills starting July 1 in the District and Aug. 1 in Maryland, after approval is given. The company estimated it will amount to 12 cents on the monthly bill of those using gas for cooking and heating water, and 56 cents to customers using it for heating their homes and buildings.

The refunds will continue until next February.

Washington Gas Light Co. also held out hope that another decrease in wholesale rates may be forthcoming and said "if so, it would be reflected on all customers' bills throughout the service area of the company in the District, Maryland and Virginia."

This depends on approval of the company's request to establish automatic adjustments when its wholesale rates go up or down.

In this connection, it said that while retail charges would be reduced in the summer, after Nov. 1 "a wholesale price increase is expected to become effective. The increased wholesale rate would then result in higher charges to customers of the company."

Burglars Tried Hard

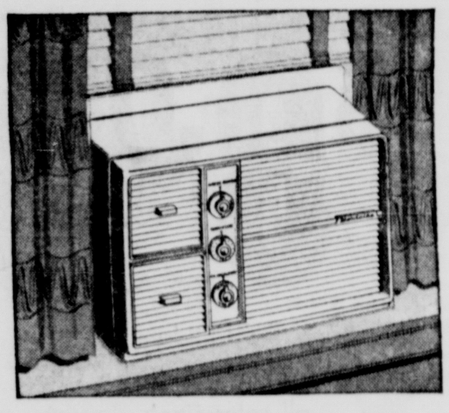

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP) — Burglars who broke into the H. J. Heinz Co. today used a power-lift but couldn't get into a big safe, smashed off the combination but failed to open a wall safe and finally settled for a handful of nickels from a soft-drink machine.

"Slow Down And Live"

Maryland To Join 23 Other States In Summer Highway Safety Drive

BALTIMORE, May 25 (AP)—Maryland joins with 23 other states Friday night to open a summer highway safety program keyed to the slogan, "Slow Down and Live."

The campaign is patterned after one conducted last year by 11 northeastern states from Maine to Maryland.

This year it has been expanded to take in states from Maine to Texas and will extend from Friday at 6 p.m. to the end of the Labor Day weekend.

State, county and local police departments will work closely with traffic courts in the participating states in an all-out effort to cut down the normal summertime rise in highway fatalities.

Last month, Gov. McKeldin joined with the chief executives of the other 23 states in a declaration that said in part:

"We are convinced that the many courteous, cautious drivers suffer at the hands of those who are obsessed with the 'in a hurry' complex. This state of mind manifests itself in excessive speed, in speed too fast for conditions, in following too closely, in failing to yield the right of way and in improper passing."

However, officials of the safety program stress that they are not trying to set up a "gigantic speed trap."

Paul E. Burke, director of the Maryland Traffic Commission and chairman of the northeastern group, said, "The sole purpose of this drive is the saving of lives on the highway. Each state is determined to achieve this end through stepped-up enforcement by its own police and other enforcement agencies of its own state and local traffic laws as they now exist.

"Residents and visiting drivers alike have been put on notice that the states participating in this drive intend to make their highways safer for all who use them during this vacation season. It remains for the individual driver to change his own bad driving habits, or else face the consequences," said Burke.

Safety experts credited last year's campaign with producing a 3 per cent decrease in fatalities in June, July and August as compared with the previous year.

States taking part in the program last year included Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

This year they are joined by Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Girl "Attending School" By Phone Will Be Promoted To Senior Class

PITTSVILLE, Md., May 26 (AP)—Teachers of Dorothy Mae Smith at Pittsville High School says she's certain to be promoted to the senior class this year—despite the fact Dorothy has been unable to leave her home throughout the school year.

The Wicomico County student has been attending school via telephone.

Through an amplifier at her side and a microphone in the class room, Dorothy has heard everything that went on during classes.

By simply pressing a button she was able to make her voice heard in the classroom to recite or ask questions.

The school and Dorothy's home are six miles apart. The distance was easily bridged by telephone, however, a teaching idea born of a respiratory ailment.

George T. Davis, Salisbury manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., was in charge of the two-way communication installation.

A microphone plug was installed in each of the three classrooms and a single mike was installed in whichever of the three classes were being conducted.

Dorothy is expected to be well enough to attend classes personally next year.

Vote For Byrd Is "Vote For Pollack," Mahoney Says

CHESTERTOWN, Md., May 26 (AP)—George P. Mahoney said tonight that every vote for his opponent in the Democratic gubernatorial primary is "a vote for Jack Pollack," Baltimore political leader.

Mahoney spoke at a rally of Kent Independent Democrats.

He said his opponent, H. C. Byrd, "is now arm-in-arm with Jack Pollack."

"A vote for the Byrd-Pollack alliance is a vote for the bosses who wreck the party to increase their own prestige. A vote for the bosses is bad for the party, for Kent County and for the state," said Mahoney.

The campaigning Baltimore County contractor charged, "There is a Pollack ticket in every one of the six Baltimore districts, and every Pollack ticket is also a Byrd ticket."

A bloc of senators controlled by a boss could hold the balance of power in the state senate, Mahoney asserted.

"If they should vote with the Republicans, they could block any legislation or any program sponsored by a governor. And it would not be new for Jack Pollack to join forces with the Republicans. Look at what he did in 1950," said Mahoney.

The speaker cited election returns from Pollack's home precinct, which, he said is "normally Democratic by nine or ten to one."

Yet the precinct voted for Republican Gov. McKeldin 1,075 against 275 for former Gov. Lane in 1950 and for Republican Sen. Beall 635 against 573 for Mahoney in 1952, he pointed out.

Monongalia County Plans To Integrate Students Next Fall

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 26 (AP) — The Monongalia County Board of Education expects to integrate its 210 Negro students and 14 Negro teachers into the white school system with no major difficulty next fall.

Mrs. Rebecca C. Conaway, board president, called on board members at a meeting last night to make Monongalia County a leader in abiding by the U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in schools.

The board empowered County School Supt. Floyd B. Cox and his assistants to confer with West Virginia University officials on plans to merge the county's Negro and white schools.

Monongalia County Plans To Integrate Students Next Fall

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 26 (AP) — The Monongalia County Board of Education expects to integrate its 210 Negro students and 14 Negro teachers into the white school system with no major difficulty next fall.

Mrs. Rebecca C. Conaway, board president, called on board members at a meeting last night to make Monongalia County a leader in abiding by the U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in schools.

The board empowered County School Supt. Floyd B. Cox and his assistants to confer with West Virginia University officials on plans to merge the county's Negro and white schools.

Noted Scientist Agrees To Enter Mental Hospital

PHILADELPHIA, May 26 (AP)—U.S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary yesterday placed Dr. Roy K. Marshall, on five years probation after the nationally known scientist agreed to enter a mental hospital.

Dr. Marshall pleaded no contest to a charge of sending obscene letters through the mails to five teenage girls. The probation term was imposed after Dr. Edward A. Strecker, University of Pennsylvania psychiatrist, testified Marshall is mentally ill. Dr. Strecker was appointed by the court two months ago to examine the scientist.

Marshall stood mute throughout the hearing. Judge Clary told him:

"One thing, Dr. Marshall, I want you fully to understand — that should you leave the hospital at any time without permission, I will consider it a complete violation of your probation and you will be subject to imprisonment before me up to 25 years."

Judge Clary commented that the federal courts do not have the power to commit to state mental institutions.

Marshall is a former director of the Fels Planetarium of the Franklin Institute. For a time he was a science commentator on a national television network.

Student Finds Homes For Mama Armadillos

RIVERHEAD, N.Y., May 26 (AP)—Those two mama armadillos that made Sidney Schwartz a headline personality are going to Canadian zoos.

Schwartz, who had despaired of the armor-plated creatures, said today he had picked new homes from about 300 offers.

The armadillos gave birth to seven youngsters after Schwartz started a study of the mammals in connection with his thesis for a Ph. D. The creatures sleep by day, carouse by night and eat like gluttons. Schwartz said he hadn't been able to find a soul who would take them—until he told it to the newspapers.

John L. Lewis Apparently Becoming Banking Tycoon

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Labor tycoon John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, is apparently becoming a banking tycoon, too.

Lewis, or interests closely allied with him and the UMW, were reported today to have acquired majority stock control in a second bank in the nation's capital, the Hamilton National.

Directors in that institution, at a special meeting yesterday, named as their new president Barnum L. Colton, who also heads another bank reportedly acquired by Lewis five years ago, the National Bank of Washington. A merger of the two banks is expected soon.

Such a consolidation would put the 74-year-old Lewis in virtual control of the second largest banking institution in Washington, next to the Riggs National Bank.

Lewis himself declined any comment on the developments.

Five years ago, Lewis blocked a merger of two banks by offering a premium price for bank stock. Out of that deal, Lewis and his union reportedly acquired majority holdings of the National Bank of Washington, the capital's oldest bank but a relatively small one.

Lewis never has admitted any connection with the Washington National, nor has he denied it. But his brother, A. D. (Denny) Lewis, and the union's general counsel, Welly K. Hopkins, became directors of the Washington National.

Also, the UMW's publication, which carries no advertising, began publishing Washington National's financial statements — along with urgings to UMW locals and districts to bank their funds there, and advice to individual UMW members to be thrifty and to deposit their savings by mail with the bank.

Then, in March, the Washington National quietly proposed a merger with the Hamilton, which voted against it. Another bank, the American Security & Trust Co., moved in and proposed a merger with the Hamilton, which voted against it. Another bank, the American Security & Trust Co., moved in and proposed a merger with Hamilton, and the boards of both approved it, subject to a vote of stockholders.

A short time later, an investment firm, Johnston, Lemon & Co., announced it was buying up Hamilton stock at $110 a share, about double what Hamilton shares had been selling for a few months earlier. The unnamed client for whom the purchases were made is generally assumed to be Lewis or one of his union associates.

McKeldin Names Three To Attend Conference On Segregation Ruling

ANNAPOLIS, May 26 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin has designated three state school officials to attend a conference of Southern executives on the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in public schools.

The meeting has been called by Gov. Stanley of Virginia in Richmond, June 7 and 8.

"Maryland is anxious to assist in any way in expediting integration in schools in accord with the Supreme Court ruling and to learn from plans, prospects and ideas of others," McKeldin wired the Virginia governor yesterday.

He said he would be unable to attend personally but would be represented by Wendell D. Allen, president of the State Board of Education; Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent, and Harry J. Green, chairman of a commission studying Maryland's public school system.

Most persons find that their hearing is less keen immediately after meals.

Montgomery County Sets Up CD Program

ROCKVILLE, Md., May 26 (AP)—An official civil defense program for Montgomery County was voted into existence yesterday.

In three separate resolutions the County Council (1) declared itself the responsible agency for civil defense (2) recommended appointment by the governor of the county manager as director of civil defense and (3) set up a 25-man citizen's' advisory committee to work with the council on civil defense plans.

County civil defense planning had been in the hands of the Montgomery County Civil Defense Assn. a volunteer group headed by Maj Gen. Lewis B. Hershey. The new advisory committee was drawn from the association's Executive Board.

Council members were mum on prospects of raising the $[illegible] appropriation recommended for civil defense activities next year.

Dog Is Rewarded For Graveside Vigil

ST. JOHN, Kan., May 26 (AP)—When George Hilton was buried last April 9, a dog took up a vigil beside the grave.

It still is there where Hilton's neighbors feed and care for it. They even provided a doghouse. It now houses the dog and her seven puppies born two days ago.

Strangest thing of all, say the neighbors, is the dog did not belong to Hilton.

Pennsy Reports Profit In April

PHILADELPHIA, May 26 (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad reported today that it made a profit in April—$825,020 to be exact—the first month this year that America's biggest railroad operated out of the red.

The PRR said the profit for last month compared to profits of $4,218,871 for April, 1953 and $1,225,662 for April, 1952.

For the first four months of this year the railroad reported a deficit of $9,150,574 compared with a net profit of $10,616,982 for the same period in 1953, and $4,740,675 for 1952. Income decline was caused by a drop in freight and passenger revenues.

For the first four months of 1954, freight revenues were $204,187,144 which was nearly 54 millions less than the year before. This year's passenger revenues of $43,414,616 was 5¾ millions less than the same period in '53.

CARRIER INJURED CARRIED OUT — Teams of crewmen and medical corpsmen carry men injured in the explosion and fire aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington yesterday down staging from high deck of the vessel at Quonset Point, R. I. Uninjured personnel watch unloading.

Part-Time Preacher Shoots Wife To Death

DALLAS, May 26 (AP)—"I killed my wife," a part-time preacher said as he walked into police headquarters clutching a large bible.

"Send an ambulance," said Stafford Lee, 38, carpenter and part-time Baptist preacher. "My wife is dead. I killed her with a shotgun. I'll make a statement about it."

Capt. W. R. Westbrook jailed Lee last night and sent patrolmen to the Lee home. They found Mrs. Annie Lee dead on a bed shot through the chest. A 12-gauge shotgun was nearby.

Lee said his wife was about to divorce him and they had argued as he tried to talk her out of it.

Formal charges have not been filed.

Wife To Divorce "Stingy" DuPont

MIAMI, Fla., May 26 (AP)—Alfred Victor DuPont's wife said today she is divorcing him because he's too stingy with his money.

"He's a very cautious man with a dollar," Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Barton DuPont told reporters in an interview. "He's miserly."

Mrs. DuPont said her husband gave her a monthly allowance of $300 and wanted her to be the best dressed woman in America. She complained that "I haven't had a new hat in four years."

"He made me keep a book on all my expenditures," she said. "I had to list such things as stamps, newspapers and entertainment of relatives."

Mrs. DuPont, a former night club singer, and her husband, a member of the wealthy Delaware family, were married Nov. 20, 1948.

The divorce case is pending before Circuit Judge George W. Tedder in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Panama Canal Officials Search Ship For Arms

PANAMA, May 26 (AP) — The French Line office at Cristobal, the Atlantic entrance to the Panama Canal, said today its freighter Wyoming had been searched by Panama Canal authorities for arms.

However, the agent said the Wyoming is expected to pass through the canal tomorrow en route to El Salvador, Guatemala, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Vancouver, B.C. He said the ship carries a general cargo and that "No arms are aboard."

The Panama Canal office at Balboa Heights declined to comment on a report that the ship had been seized by canal authorities. The 15th U.S. Naval District, which has joint responsibility with the Panama Canal Authority for shipping and security of canal zone waters, said "We have nothing at all on the whole thing."

The French Line's Wyoming is an 8,693-tonner built in 1949 and fitted out in Le Havre, France.

176 Killed In Worst U. S. Military Marine Disaster On April 26, 1952

[By The Associated Press]

The worst disaster involving an American military vessel outside a military zone occurred in the Atlantic ocean two years ago.

A collision between the destroyer-minesweeper Hobson and the aircraft carrier Wasp off the Azores took 176 lives on April 26, 1952.

However, there have been maritime accidents with a far greater toll of service personnel.

On April 27, 1865, the steamer Sultana, carrying exchanged Union prisoners of war, blew up near Memphis and killed 1,450 men.

During World War I, 431 lives were lost when the Otranto, a British ship carrying U.S. troops, sank in a collision off Scotland.

A World War II collision in the Atlantic caused the death of 218 men aboard the American destroyer Ingraham.

Perhaps the greatest number ever to perish in a single marine mishap occurred in November 1948. Six thousand Chinese, including government troops, died when a crowded evacuation ship sank off southern Manchuria.

French Nurse Named For Red Cross Award

OSLO, Norway, May 26 (AP)—The Board of Governors of the League of Red Cross Societies has proposed Lt. Genevieve de Galard Terraube for the Florence Nightingale medal, top award of the Red Cross.

The governors, meeting here, also sent a Greek-sponsored message to the 29-year-old French nurse, expressing "warmest congratulations" on the way she cared for the wounded during the siege of Dien Bien Phu.

The recommendation for the medal, proposed by the Swedish delegation, will now be sent to the international committee of the Red Cross, the awarding body.

As the matter came up for a vote, Soviet Chief Delegate Dr. B. Pachkov took the floor and demanded to know "who is this girl De Galard."

"I must confess that up to this moment I have never heard of Miss De Galard," he said.

Even so, the resolution passed unanimously.

Kansas Legislator Predicts Compromise On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The chairman of the House Agriculture Committee indicated today that major revisions are in store for President Eisenhower's farm program, which calls for a shift to a more flexible system of lower price supports.

"It is my feeling we will agree in committee on a good sound compromise bill, and that the House will pass it," Rep. Hope (R-Kan), told reporters after a White House conference.

He declined to speculate about what the Senate would do, or whether the President would be satisfied with compromise legislation.

There is considerable opposition in Congress to the administration's proposal that rigid and high price supports for basic farm commodities be abandoned in favor of a more flexible system.

Basic crops are now supported at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a standard declared by law to be a fair price for farm products. Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson want a flexible system of government supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Several factors help to determine the summer hair-do you'll find most practical. Study them carefully!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

So you want a new hair style? Well, this is an excellent time to make a change! With summer's warmer days approaching, you'll appreciate a coiffure that is cool in looks and comfort, easy to manage, and flattering to your features.

The simpler a hair style, the more becoming it is, and the easier it is to keep smooth. Even though you may have a problem to overcome, such as a high forehead or a square face, my statement about the smartness of simplicity holds true.

To help determine the arrangement that will be individually yours, study your features, classify the color and texture of your hair, brush it into different arrangements before you decide on a single style.

Cut Requirements

Suppose you'd like a close crop that conforms to your head, softens your features and will be no problem in hot, sticky weather. This will require adept cutting, thinning and shaping, plus a trim every two to four weeks for neatness' sake.

If you're an expert with the shears, you can create your own cut. Be sure you taper the ends — never cut them straight! Use sharp shears with slender blades and trim lock by lock with a light, flicking motion, starting about two inches from your head. Bring the shears down each lock as you trim, without cutting completely through the strands. This will achieve a tapered effect, avoiding unattractive straggly ends. I must caution you about a self-cut with hair clipper or shears; if you're strictly a novice, better leave it to a professional hair stylist!

Studying the cuts you see in photographs will help you decide which lines to carry upward, which outward. You will notice that the lower the part, the greater width the face assumes; that the more slanting the part, the more narrowing is the effect; that bangs lessen the height of the forehead; that a small face looks best when hair is pulled away from forehead and ears.

Other Concerns

Both very fine and very coarse hair take well to the shaped cut with easy waves and curling ends, the soft permanent (unless you're blessed with a natural curl), the regular set. Hair of medium texture can take a more detailed hair-do with brushed-up (but always simple) curls, because it is easily managed.

If your hair has definite color (honey or golden blonde, dark brunette or black) play up that color with a smooth uncomplicated hair-do. Add life and interest to dull blonde or light brown tresses with a softly curled arrangement. Titian hair is most striking when plainly styled, silver hair best when sleek in its simplicity.

role in "Desiree." Maggie will stay in London to await any further developments in her mother's case.

Las Vegas notes:

Flanked by his attractive wife, Rosemary, his daughter Marjorie, and his TV wife Jean Hagan and her husband, his ad libbing about all the money his wife spends, Beverly Hills, and a few other things, was a riot.

Afterward I asked Rosemary, who is one of my neighbors, if she minded what her husband said.

"Mind," she said, "I love it. Just so he gets all that applause—it's wonderful."

On the same bill is Marti Stevens, and she's improved unbelievably, both in her singing and in her stage presence.

Marti's next stop is London. She goes with her bridegroom, Michael Butler, on a delayed honeymoon, and also fulfill a nightclub engagement.

Bandleader Michael Dunn and his wife expect their third baby in October.

Ray Bolger was brought back again and again and again at the Sahara in Las Vegas. Never saw anyone work so hard—he dances better than ever.

On the same program with him was Anna Maria Alberghetti. She's just a doll, this girl—so beautiful and such a voice. Her mother accompanies her at the piano and her father directs her.

Father Ryan had a full house of movie people and entertainers at St. Ann's Catholic Church. They have a 5 o'clock mass on Sunday afternoon, which some of the show people made, but most of them I saw in the morning.

Seems the Sands is the meeting place for all the entertainers. On Saturday, gathered around the pool, were Danny Thomas, Georgia Jessel, Ray Bolger, Eileen Barton and scores of others.

I have a new neighbor and her name is Marilyn Monroe. She lives on Palm Drive.

Eddie Fisher has a dream come true when he does a concert next Thursday at Carnegie Hall for the New York Heart Fund.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Goodwill Mission

British Labor Party Chieftains Accept Invitation To Visit Communist China

LONDON, May 26 (AP)—The British Labor party decided today to send former Prime Minister Clement Attlee and seven other top leaders to Communist China to promote British-Chinese friendship.

Aneurin Bevan, Attlee's rival for the party leadership, was the only leftwinger among the group named for the official visit in August.

The Labor party asked the Chinese Communists last November how they would react to a Labor mission.

Party secretary Morgan Phillips said an exchange of correspondence on details followed, and an invitation from Peiping arrived last week.

It was while Attlee was premier in January, 1950, that Britain recognized the Chinese Communist regime. The British have a mission in Peiping under Charge d' Affaires Humphrey Trevelyan. But the Chinese Reds have refused any exchange of full diplomatic missions, and Trevelyan has received cold shoulder treatment in the Chinese capital.

Said Phillips:

"The visit follows a resolution at our party conference last year calling for goodwill missions to be sent to Russia and China. The resolution was referred to the executive, and it was decided I should get in touch with the Chinese."

Phillips is one of the chosen delegation. Others include a woman—Dr. Edith Summerskill, former Laborite minister of national insurance, who is expected to become chairman of the Labor party for the 1954-55 year.

Also named was the current party chairman, Wilfrid A. Burke, a former Laborite minister. Others include two former party chairmen, Harry Earnshaw, a textile union leader; Sam Watson, leader of the Durham miners' union.

Henry W. Franklin, former president of the National Union of Railwaymen, completes the delegation.

All are members of the Labor party executive, the party's board of directors.

The Peiping invitation came from the Chinese People's Institute of International Affairs. Its honorary president is Chinese Communist Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, now attending the Geneva conference.

The Communists say the institute's aims are to apply scientific methods to the study of the theory and practice of diplomacy, to popularize knowledge of international affairs, and to make suggestions on foreign policy to the Pieping government.

Lord Beaverbrook's London Evening Standard commented that the visit is "bound to cause bitterness both in the United States and France . . . at a moment when the forces of Vietminh are using Chinese tanks and guns to batter the French in Indochina."

No Spending Increase Plans, Humphrey Says

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said last night the administration will continue to try to cut its spending, "barring unexpected future international developments."

Humphrey's remarks in a prepared speech seemed to indicate that the Indochina situation has not yet seriously altered the administration's defense spending plans. Humphrey is a member of the National Security Council, which determines the nation's high-level policy.

There have been published reports, denied in some quarters, that the administration is considering requests to Congress for additional billions because of the uncertain situation in southeast Asia.

Snakes Fleeing Flood Spread Terror In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran, May 26 (AP) — Thousands of deadly snakes driven into the port of Khorramshahr by flood waters yesterday spread terror among refugees crowding the city's outskirts.

Rumors swept the city that dozens of people were dead of snakebite. Iranian army authorities said the flood's only casualty so far was one soldier, drowned slipping off an embankment.

Sleepwalker Who Shot, Killed Wife Freed By Judge

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 26 (AP)—A man who shot and killed his wife was free today, cleared by a judge who said: "I am convinced this man was walking in his sleep."

James Patterson Twomey, 46, tried without a jury before Superior Judge John A. Hewicker, shot his wife, Margaret, 47, April 20, as she lay sleeping in her twin bed.

Judge Hewicker said evidence presented by psychiatrists convinced him Twomey was having a nightmare when he fired the gun.

The United States has 88 cities of more than 100,000 population.

American Good Will Gets A Testimonial

The Marshall Islands in the South Pacific have seen plenty of changes and turmoil since English Capt. John Marshall explored them in 1788. Germany got hold of them in 1886 and finally paid Spain for them in 1898 as Spain's Pacific sun was setting. Between the two world wars the Japanese Rising Sun flag flew over the Marshalls by permission of the League of Nations.

But in 1933 Japan left the League, closed the islands to all outsiders, and went to building war bases on Jaluit, Truk, and smaller atolls. Early in 1944 American forces took the islands in their Pacific sweep toward the Philippines.

Through it all the 10,000 Marshallese, a pleasant group of brown-skinned Micronesians, had full chance to contrast and compare the administrations of their masters over the years. What they think of American rule is now brought out with gratifying clarity. The islanders' petition of last week to suspend H-bomb tests in the area leaves no doubt as to the high quality of U. S. trusteeship since the end of World War II.

It could be assumed the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department are doing everything possible to this end, especially since that March day the wind changed and radioactive dust fell in the wrong places far distant from the spot of that now-famous bomb drop. But in the face of that episode could simple islanders be expected to say the handsome things they did? They said, for instance, ". . . We have found the American administration by far the most agreeable one in our memory."

True enough the Marshallese have been frightened for their lives and health, and concerned for their property rights. They are now assured of "all possible precautions" including medical coaching on safety after bomb tests. The Red world can put out whatever lies it wishes about the "helpless" people of Pacific test areas. But the attitude of the Marshallese themselves will stand as the living testimonial to American good will toward even the weakest of human societies.

Copyright Convention

On September 6, 1952, the Universal Copyright Convention was signed at Geneva, Switzerland. It has been lying about in the archives of the State Department and the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations since then awaiting for ratification, with which the committee is now proceeding.

A Universal Copyright Convention would be excellent if it were universal and in all respects reciprocal. This particular document is not reciprocal because none of the countries in the Communist world provide for any system of copyright protection for alien works, whether printed or unprinted books, articles, plays, musical compositions or motion pictures. The United States has never had a copyright convention with Russia—in czarist or Soviet eras —because Russia would not agree to reciprocity.

Article VI of the Universal Copyright Convention contains a trick clause which excludes recordings. It reads:

" 'Publication,' as used in this convention, means the reproduction in tangible form and the general distribution to the public of copies of a work from which it can be read or otherwise visually perceived."

This is a curious provision that baffles understanding. Why should sheet music come under the provisions of this convention and not recordings? Sheet music involves visual perception; recordings involve auditory perception. Is the eye to be prejudiced as against the ear? Why the fine distinction?

Precisely what happens when a symphony orchestra plays Shostakovich? If the Russians have arranged a "back door" non-reciprocal transaction, the symphony orchestra must pay royalties, but a recording company, selling thousands of recordings for use in the home or a juke box, does not have to pay a royalty. Why is this? Who arranged for a special advantage or disadvantage, whichever it may be, for the recording companies?

The "back door" arrangement is as follows: The Russians produce a work, but so far as the United States is concerned it is not copyrighted because they do not provide reciprocal protection in their country and they have not agreed to the Universal Copyright Convention. However, they give world-wide rights to a Swiss or a Swede or an Englishman or someone who belongs to a nation within the copyright convention. He copyrights the work in his country, whereupon it immediately becomes part of the universal agreement. He collects the royalties for his principals behind the iron curtain.

Millions of dollars could then find their way from the United States to Soviet Russia, to Poland, Romania, Red China, etc. This is particularly true in the field of music as Russian music is played often in this country. Why should millions of American dollars be sent to Russia or to any country behind the iron curtain? It would also apply to Russian books and motion pictures.

Once this convention is established, if I quote from Stalin or Lenin or any Russian in an article, the Kremlin could, under this convention, sue for royalties if they employ the "back door" process. Or they could prevent the publication of what they want to suppress by setting their royalties too high or by having their agents object to quotations. On the other hand, they could print all the American books they desire without paying royalties and we would have no claims under any agreement.

Now, any writer favors copyrights and there is no reason why Khachaturian should not receive royalties for his "Sabre Dance," which was such an enormous success and appeared on The Hit Parade. But as long as his country provides no reciprocal arrangement to protect Cole Porter or Irving Berlin or Aaron Copland, then we ought not to send millions of dollars to Russia to protect their writers, composers, motion pictures, and everything except recordings. Apparently, the record companies have some kind of an inside on this deal.

The basic principle of copyrighting or patenting in the international field must be reciprocity. This has always been the abiding principle. If any country chooses to remain outside the copyright or patent convention, using "back door" methods to protect her own people but never reciprocally protecting others, then the transaction is unfair and wrong and should not be permitted. And the Senate ought not ratify such an agreement.

This is another little transaction in which the Russians are, as usual, playing a few little tricks and they find Americans to help them who are without understanding of the problem.

Potter's Senate Group Investigates Problems Facing Television Industry

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The huge Senate caucus room, scene of the off-again, on-again McCarthy hearings, was the stage for another hearing last week at which the television cameras were significantly absent. In many respects, however, it was far more important to the man in the street than the escapades of Messrs. Cohn and Schine.

Though the kleig lights were low, the stakes were high, because television itself was on trial—in fact, the whole future of the industry will be affected by the findings of a Senate subcommittee headed by GOP Sen. Charles Potter of Michigan.

Potter and his colleagues were investigating a dog-eat-dog battle for the control of TV channels and their advertising gold.

The Potter subcommittee, specifically, is probing for answers to an alarming state of monopoly and restraint of trade affecting both VHF (very high frequency) television, the kind most of us look at, and UHF (ultra high frequency) television, which provides more channels and better reception.

Weak-Kneed FCC

It is common knowledge in the industry that the two major networks which televised the McCarthy-Army hearings as a public service—ABC and Du Mont—are fighting for survival against the wealthier, more powerful NBC and CBS networks. NBC and CBS have not televised the McCarthy hearings because they encroached on valuable advertising revenue. Du Mont and ABC did televise, partly because they had little advertising to be disrupted.

Unless Congress, or the Justice Department, or the weak-kneed Federal Communications Commission does something to checkrein the snowballing monopoly, both ABC and Du Mont will eventually go under. Neither can cope with the big-time competition of CBS and NBC, which blanket the popular televiewing hours on week nights and Sundays with hit programs sponsored by Ford, RCA, General Motors, General Electric, Colgate-Palmolive, Standard Oil, Benrus Watches, Philip Morris, Chesterfield, Lucky Strike, Camels, Lipton's Tea, and other big advertisers.

The programing favoritism by these powerful commercial sponsors is even tougher on UHF stations, whose advertising market is limited by the fact that home viewers require special receiving sets to dial in UHF programs. This limited market does not appeal to TV hucksters with products to sell.

There are now 250 VHF stations on the air, compared with only 127 UHF stations. Most of the latter are either losing money or struggling to break even. Others lucky enough to have network affiliations not blanketed by VHF stations, are making a little money. Several already have folded.

The tragedy is that the Federal Communications Commission has encouraged the construction of UHF stations, both because they are capable of improved reception (as FM stations in radio) and because the frequency spectrum will accommodate a much greater number of them than VHF transmitters.

The FCC has estimated that the spectrum is capable of more than 1,300 UHF television station assignments, against a national maximum of approximately 500 VHF stations. In addition, while VHF stations are limited to 12 channels in the spectrum, UHF stations can operate on 70 channels, from Channel 14 through 83. However, after encouraging the investment of private capital in UHF, the FCC hasn't lifted a finger to keep the UHF stations in business.

Unfair Discrimination

In fact, the FCC seems to have made a policy of discriminating against UHF stations in cases where there has been a conflict of interest with better-heeled VHF competitors. In Atlantic City UHF station, WFPG, recently was driven out of business by VHF competition from Philadelphia, 40 miles away. The Federal Communications Commission simply increased the power of the big Philadelphia stations which drowned out Atlantic City and put WFPG out of business.

A similar close-out occurred in St. Louis, when KACY-TV, operating on UHF Channel 14, had to shut down because it was unable to get network programs. Jack Garrison, president of the station, told the Potter subcommittee:

"Forty-nine days ago, my station suspended service to the 2,000,000 people in greater St. Louis. It was at that time the most powerful UHF station in America, operating from the highest tower in the market, with the largest and most complete studios staffed by experienced television people.

"On November 25, 1953, we opened the station commercially. On April 2, 1954, we ceased operating after a loss in excess of $250,000. We built the station, we opened it, we closed it. . . . How did we get into UHF?"

Garrison explained "how." He said he opened his station on the advice of two members of the Federal Communication Commission, who told him that "UHF offered the best opportunity for an early start in television and that we would have from two to three years to establish UHF in our area before there would be additional VHF competition."

Black Death

However, Garrison would have been much better off had he not taken the FCC's "advice." Not only was he unable to get "a single network program," but the FCC welshed on its promise not to approve any additional VHF competing stations in St. Louis.

"In the last month the 'black death' has come to UHF television in St. Louis," Garrison testified. "Where before there was only one VHF television station, a change in the commission's processing structure now has brought about the license of an additional VHF station, and I am told that the licensing of a third VHF station is only a matter of days or hours away."

William A. Roberts, general counsel of the UHF Television Association of America, who followed Garrison on the stand, suggested a three-step solution to TV's monopoly problems.

Armistice Is Approaching In Indochina If Reds Agree

By David Lawrence

GENEVA—They are heading now toward an armistice in Indochina—provided the Communists will agree. The technical work and the planning necessary to work out a military line in Vietnam which can be militarily safeguarded have begun. But the Communists give no sign of concurrence because the lates development in the French Parliament open the door to a further exploitation of the French situation by Communist stalling.

Just as Allied unity began to make its appearance, with the splendid statements by Prime Minister Churchill in the British Parliament about American-British cooperation, the French Chamber of Deputies started to expose once more the weakness of the present French cabinet. The steady pressure of the opposition parties and elements in the government coalition to force a debate on Indochina is continuing. Once the debate occurs, the present government in Paris may fall and then negotiations here would be delayed.

Korean Armistice A Precedent

This correspondent talked today with one of the leaders of the opposition group of the French Parliament, who insisted that the next government would be "more united" than the present regime. What he meant, of course, is "united" behind the ratification of the European Defense Community agreement, postponed until July, which is a long way off. Asked what a change in government would mean with respect to Indochina, he said it would be the forerunner of a policy of "saving the boys," and he referred to America's armistice in Korea as a significant precedent.

A canvass of the French situation reveals, on the other hand, that the sentiment for a strong policy of reorganization of the whole French command is growing and that, if the Geneva Conference fails to produce an armistice, a comprehensive program of military action can be expected. This calls for an acceptance of the American offer to help train the native troops in Indochina and also for a command setup which is completely devoid of political interference from Paris. At any time now an announcement of the withdrawal of General Navarre from Indochina and the naming of a new commander in chief may be expected.

The counter moves planned—assuming an unwillingness on the part of the Communists to agree to an armistice—involve not only American cooperation in military training missions but the stepping up of supplies of a military character. Also there is in the works the plan referred to by Secretary of State Dulles at his press conference in Washington to bring the United Nations into the picture as an instrument for the protection of the integrity and independence of Laos and Cambodia, both of which countries have been invaded by Communists troops from across the border in Vietnam. Thailand, which has been threatened, will take the lead on the idea in the U. N.

Threefold Pressure On Reds

So the pressure on the Communists is threefold:

First, the American-French talks on a military plan to aid the defenders of Indochina against aggression, which will be supplemented by staff talks in Washington starting on June 1 between the military chiefs of Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States. This planning will continue whether or not there is an armistice in Indochina because it will be necessary to assure the inviolability of the truce line.

Second, the sending of a commission of the United Nations to observe and report to the U. N. General Assembly as to aggression against Laos and Cambodia. This could mean United Nations action analogous to that which was taken in June 1950 in Korea.

Third, the formation of a permanent Southeast Asia Alliance, which now embraces a few states but which will include Great Britain as well as certain other Asian countries when the Geneva Conference is concluded.

Peace Still The Objective

All these moves are being worked out now by the most intimate cooperation between Washington, Paris and London as well as Geneva. General Walter Bedell Smith, former American ambassador to Moscow and head of the American delegation here, is maintaining a close contact with Mr. Molotov as well as with Foreign Minister Eden and Foreign Minister Bidault. His skill as a diplomat as well as his background as a soldier—he was General Eisenhower's chief of staff during the Normandy invasion—have been commented upon by other Allied delegates as particularly useful here.

The objective in Geneva still is peace. There is no desire to expand the war in Indochina or to bring about American military intervention if it can possibly be avoided. None of the Allies wants it, but the Communists are being left with no doubt that military action is a realistic alternative if they do not soon show a conciliatory attitude.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We'll have to concede the Democrats must be advising the Republicans. Nothing else can explain those chambered consultations in the ante-room of investigation.

There has been more wasted energy than a near-sighted old lady petting an iron deer.

The Democrats have been as smooth as a bookkeeper's elbows about the Stevens-McCarthy scrabble. Any time you gander an idiot fanning moonbeams with his hat it gives you a sense of superiority.

The investigatory wordeo was a Republican family quarrel. On the front porch.

The Democrats helped it along because they were popping some corn of their own on the hospitable hearth. They will get results in the ides of November. They're not forgetting the New Jersey and Wisconsin elections last fall. Straws show which way the soda water goes.

After being loose from emoluments and appurtenences of office for 20 years the GOP naturally forgot how to act during an investigation.

Too bad one of the old Tammany sachems didnt' write a cook book of old tribal recipes. They're the slickers who could tear up 11 blocks of city streets on a snow-cleaning contract.

You cannot call these first two years of Republican office a shake-down cruise. The Democrats shook everybody down long before that.

And once again they are going to capitalize on the GOP inability to blow hot and cold with the same hair dryer.

Congress will go along for the ride. Provided it can ride the White House.

Franklin Dee knew how to handle the desk-hands on Capitoline Hill. He changed the motto olucernment to, "E Pluribus or Else."

Franklin gave Congress one of two choices. With Franklin supplying both.

Junkets And Junkets

By Bob Considine

HONOLULU (INS) — "Dear Mr. Constantine," writes a constant reader. "You mentioned the word 'junket' in a recent article. Tell me, Bill, what is a junket? I always thought it was a kind of quick-mix pudding, but now I am confused. Yours in sport,

"Deborah Considine, age 6."

Dear Miss: A junket is — indeed — not a pudding. It is a flight in a flying machine, generally, though junkets involving other means of travel have been committed in the past. Briefly, a group of people who can well afford to travel out of their own pockets are picked up and taken to some place they've already seen, but this time on the cuff.

It is a very pleasant form of nomad life, young woman, and I hope you grow up to be a part of it. The best way to get into the junket business is to be elected to Congress. The next best way is to get into the newspaper 'game' as all red-blooded American reporters call it, or in the other rapid-fire, stop the press news media that has sprung up around it, like the Yale quarterly.

If you make it to Congress you can practically create your own junkets. If the old lady, as you'll affectionately call your wife, gets too oppressive about the end of the session (and she will) just come home to her some night with a long face and say, 'Prunella, Pearl, President Eddie Fisher called me today and asked me to look into the Bramsk situation in Umsk. The secretary of guided missiles is sending a WAC corporal for me first thing in the morning. Toodaloo." And you're off.

It is safe to say that if President G. Washington had shot the first would-be junketeer (one Ebenezer Flubb of Virginia who had a hankering to see far off West Virginia for free) there would now be no deficit and we could have underwritten all wars from the Crimean on. The congressmen who have sped to Honolulu alone (this is a tough one to shake the wife off) would have saved it from Japanese attack by sheer weight of numbers, or sunk the place into the Pacific O., if assembled at once.

You may ask "what is done on junkets?" Well, constant reader, that's a puzzler. The congressmen usually write up a report, used generally to wrap gift seeds in. In this way they give their findings to the people. The souvenirs they keep. But other junkets make more sense and have some legitimate news value.

I remember, for example, the voyage of the S. S. United States from Newport News to New York. It proved that we had the fastest big ship in the world — after a century of forlorn maritime rivalry with England, France and Germany. It proved to the world, too, that the biggest town in the land could welcome a ship with the same ear-splitting reception as must have greeted the return of old Yankee clippers in the 1840's and '50's.

The Air Force, Navy and Army have run some instructive junkets through the years, a few devoted to the greater honor and glory of the brass, most of them dedicated to explaining the scope, muscles and complexity of the security the people are buying.

This trip is newsworthy. It is the first DC7 flight to Hawaii, the first time United or any other airline has flown passengers from New York to this fragrant isle (5,000 miles) between breakfast and two-finger chlorophyl poi. It brings an important part of the United States a little closer to a place in the star-studded section of the American flag.

It also recalls an incident that happened not too long ago in the office of a publisher who requested his secretary to get his editor on the telephone.

The efficient secretary passed the word to the chief telephone operator whose job included the task of keeping track of the editor and other key members of the staff in the event of an emergency.

In this instance the chief operator knew the editor had flown more than 5,000 miles from his New York desk to enjoy a junket in Honolulu. She had him on the telephone in a matter of minutes and put the call through to the publisher.

"Bill," said the publisher, "I want you to come over and have lunch with me, say in about 20 minutes."

"Boss," the editor exclaimed, "I didn't know you came along! Where shall it be, the Royal Hawaiian or the Surf Club?"

And in closing, guess what we were served on United's "dawn to dusk" flight leaving San Francisco?

Junket? Right!

The Heart: One Of The Most Dependable Of All Organs

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The heart is one of our most dependable organs. It beats 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and occasionally for 100 years or more. Some say the structure never rests but it sneaks in a wink or two between each contraction, which provides all the needed rest.

The pulse varies at different ages. The rate is between 140 and 150 prior to birth; in the first year the count drops to between 110 and 130. By the third year, it registers 80 to 105; and at ages 7 to 14, the beat is 75 to 90. Seventy is the midpoint of the normal adult male pulse which ranges from 50 to 100. Women often have readings eight to 10 points higher than men.

A pulse rate of 50 or less is considered slow; above 100 is rapid. A slow beat is preferable because it means the old ticker is doing less work. Furthermore, the rest period is longer. Ten beats less per minute adds up to 600 per hour, or 14,400 in a 24-hour period. This really amounts to something over a period of years and explans why there are so many oldsters with a slow pulse.

The normal heart pumps approximately 166 gallons of blood each hour. By age 70, it has beaten more than 2½ billion times, and pumped more than 100 million gallons of fluid. It is capable of more work than most of our modern engines, and if it were possible to compare autos with hearts, most of us would be forced to drive a car for more than a million miles to get out of it the same volume of work that we expect from the old ticker.

There is nothing magic about the heart. This four-chambered muscular pump is built to circulate blood through arteries, veins, and capillaries. In this way, oxygen and nutrients are carried to the tissues and in return carbon dioxide and waste products are conveyed to the lungs and organs of excretion.

The structure is not immune to infection and deterioration and the various conditions that stem from these disorders result in heart disease. The heart differs from a mechanical pump; it does not stall when handicapped but enlarges and becomes stronger. The chamber walls strengthen, the pumping rate increases, or both. The defective heart is thus able to compensate and will continue to beat until it is overtaxed, thoroughly exhausted, or deprived of its own blood supply.

The heart muscle does not derive its nourishment from the blood that passes through the chambers but has its own vessels (coronary arteries and cardiac veins). The coronary arteries are most susceptible to arteriosclerosis; and chest pain (angina pectoris) develops when these vessels are no longer capable of supplying enough blood to meet the demands of the heart muscle.

TOMORROW: Operations for oldsters.

Four diseases have been named after four different physicians with the same last name of Pick. One is degeneration, or softening of the brain; a second is erythromelia, a painless reddening of the skin of the limbs; a third is inflammation of the sac that surrounds the heart (pericardium); and a fourth, a disturbance in fat metabolism.

WHAT KIND?

We lump these lesions together because they are the same, and they are classified as benign (innocent) or malignant (cancerous).

Try And Stop Me

Back from a three-day business trip, a husband admitted to his wife that he was utterly bushed. "Not only was I rushing around fourteen hours a day," he complained, "but I had to sleep in a saloon." "A saloon!" gasped his wife. "Do you mean to say that in that whole city you couldn't find a decent room?" "There were rooms enough," confessed the husband, "but none with bars in them."

Have you heard about the optician's daughter? Two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself.

Old codger in a sleepy New England village had lived in the same ramshackle cottage since the day of his birth many years ago. Suddenly he startled his cronies by gathering his few belongings and moving into the house next door.

"What's the big idea?" everybody asked him. He scratched his head and admitted, "Durned if I know myself. Must be the gypsy in me!"

American Good Will Gets A Testimonial

The Marshall Islands in the South Pacific have seen plenty of changes and turmoil since English Capt. John Marshall explored them in 1788. Germany got hold of them in 1886 and finally paid Spain for them in 1898 as Spain's Pacific sun was setting. Weak-Kneed FCC

It is common knowledge in the industry that the two major networks which televised the McCarthy-Army hearings as a public service—ABC and Du Mont—are fighting for survival against the wealthier, more powerful NBC and CBS networks. NBC and CBS have not televised the McCarthy hearings because they encroached on valuable advertising revenue. Du Mont and ABC did televise, partly because they had little advertising to be disrupted.

Unless Congress, or the Justice Department, or the weak-kneed Federal Communications Commission does something to checkrein the snowballing monopoly, both ABC and Du Mont will eventually go under. Neither can cope with the big-time competition of CBS and NBC, which blanket the popular televiewing hours on week nights and Sundays with hit programs sponsored by Ford, RCA, General Motors, General Electric, Colgate-Palmolive, Standard Oil, Benrus Watches, Philip Morris, Chesterfield, Lucky Strike, Camels, Lipton's Tea, and other big advertisers.

The programing favoritism by these powerful commercial sponsors is even tougher on UHF stations, whose advertising market is limited by the fact that home viewers require special receiving sets to dial in UHF programs. This limited market does not appeal to TV hucksters with products to sell.

There are now 250 VHF stations on the air, compared with only 127 UHF stations. Most of the latter are either losing money or struggling to break even. Others lucky enough to have network affiliations not blanketed by VHF stations, are making a little money. Several already have folded.

The tragedy is that the Federal Communications Commission has encouraged the construction of UHF stations, both because they are capable of improved reception (as FM stations in radio) and because the frequency spectrum will accommodate a much greater number of them than VHF transmitters.

The FCC has estimated that the spectrum is capable of more than 1,300 UHF television station assignments, against a national maximum of approximately 500 VHF stations. In addition, while VHF stations are limited to 12 channels in the spectrum, UHF stations can operate on 70 channels, from Channel 14 through 83. However, after encouraging the investment of private capital in UHF, the FCC hasn't lifted a finger to keep the UHF stations in business.

Unfair Discrimination

In fact, the FCC seems to have made a policy of discriminating against UHF stations in cases where there has been a conflict of interest with better-heeled VHF competitors. In Atlantic City UHF station, WFPG, recently was driven out of business by VHF competition from Philadelphia, 40 miles away. The Federal Communications Commission simply increased the power of the big Philadelphia stations which drowned out Atlantic City and put WFPG out of business.

A similar close-out occurred in St. Louis, when KACY-TV, operating on UHF Channel 14, had to shut down because it was unable to get network programs. Jack Garrison, president of the station, told the Potter subcommittee:

"Forty-nine days ago, my station suspended service to the 2,000,000 people in greater St. Louis. It was at that time the most powerful UHF station in America, operating from the highest tower in the market, with the largest and most complete studios staffed by experienced television people.

"On November 25, 1953, we opened the station commercially. On April 2, 1954, we ceased operating after a loss in excess of $250,000. We built the station, we opened it, we closed it. . . . How did we get into UHF?"

Garrison explained "how." He said he opened his station on the advice of two members of the Federal Communication Commission, who told him that "UHF offered the best opportunity for an early start in television and that we would have from two to three years to establish UHF in our area before there would be additional VHF competition."

Black Death

However, Garrison would have been much better off had he not taken the FCC's "advice." Not only was he unable to get "a single network program," but the FCC welshed on its promise not to approve any additional VHF competing stations in St. Louis.

"In the last month the 'black death' has come to UHF television in St. Louis," Garrison testified. "Where before there was only one VHF television station, a change in the commission's processing structure now has brought about the license of an additional VHF station, and I am told that the licensing of a third VHF station is only a matter of days or hours away."

William A. Roberts, general counsel of the UHF Television Association of America, who followed Garrison on the stand, suggested a three-step solution to TV's monopoly problems.

Armistice Is Approaching In Indochina If Reds Agree

By David Lawrence

GENEVA—They are heading now toward an armistice in Indochina—provided the Communists will agree. The technical work and the planning necessary to work out a military line in Vietnam which can be militarily safeguarded have begun. But the Communists give no sign of concurrence because the lates development in the French Parliament open the door to a further exploitation of the French situation by Communist stalling.

Just as Allied unity began to make its appearance, with the splendid statements by Prime Minister Churchill in the British Parliament about American-British cooperation, the French Chamber of Deputies started to expose once more the weakness of the present French cabinet. The steady pressure of the opposition parties and elements in the government coalition to force a debate on Indochina is continuing. Once the debate occurs, the present government in Paris may fall and then negotiations here would be delayed.

Korean Armistice A Precedent

This correspondent talked today with one of the leaders of the opposition group of the French Parliament, who insisted that the next government would be "more united" than the present regime. What he meant, of course, is "united" behind the ratification of the European Defense Community agreement, postponed until July, which is a long way off. Asked what a change in government would mean with respect to Indochina, he said it would be the forerunner of a policy of "saving the boys," and he referred to America's armistice in Korea as a significant precedent.

A canvass of the French situation reveals, on the other hand, that the sentiment for a strong policy of reorganization of the whole French command is growing and that, if the Geneva Conference fails to produce an armistice, a comprehensive program of military action can be expected. This calls for an acceptance of the American offer to help train the native troops in Indochina and also for a command setup which is completely devoid of political interference from Paris. At any time now an announcement of the withdrawal of General Navarre from Indochina and the naming of a new commander in chief may be expected.

The counter moves planned—assuming an unwillingness on the part of the Communists to agree to an armistice—involve not only American cooperation in military training missions but the stepping up of supplies of a military character. Also there is in the works the plan referred to by Secretary of State Dulles at his press conference in Washington to bring the United Nations into the picture as an instrument for the protection of the integrity and independence of Laos and Cambodia, both of which countries have been invaded by Communists troops from across the border in Vietnam. Thailand, which has been threatened, will take the lead on the idea in the U. N.

Threefold Pressure On Reds

So the pressure on the Communists is threefold:

First, the American-French talks on a military plan to aid the defenders of Indochina against aggression, which will be supplemented by staff talks in Washington starting on June 1 between the military chiefs of Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand and the United States. This planning will continue whether or not there is an armistice in Indochina because it will be necessary to assure the inviolability of the truce line.

Second, the sending of a commission of the United Nations to observe and report to the U. N. General Assembly as to aggression against Laos and Cambodia. This could mean United Nations action analogous to that which was taken in June 1950 in Korea.

Third, the formation of a permanent Southeast Asia Alliance, which now embraces a few states but which will include Great Britain as well as certain other Asian countries when the Geneva Conference is concluded.

Peace Still The Objective

All these moves are being worked out now by the most intimate cooperation between Washington, Paris and London as well as Geneva. General Walter Bedell Smith, former American ambassador to Moscow and head of the American delegation here, is maintaining a close contact with Mr. Molotov as well as with Foreign Minister Eden and Foreign Minister Bidault. His skill as a diplomat as well as his background as a soldier—he was General Eisenhower's chief of staff during the Normandy invasion—have been commented upon by other Allied delegates as particularly useful here.

The objective in Geneva still is peace. There is no desire to expand the war in Indochina or to bring about American military intervention if it can possibly be avoided. None of the Allies wants it, but the Communists are being left with no doubt that military action is a realistic alternative if they do not soon show a conciliatory attitude.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We'll have to concede the Democrats must be advising the Republicans. Nothing else can explain those chambered consultations in the ante-room of investigation.

There has been more wasted energy than a near-sighted old lady petting an iron deer.

The Democrats have been as smooth as a bookkeeper's elbows about the Stevens-McCarthy scrabble. Any time you gander an idiot fanning moonbeams with his hat it gives you a sense of superiority.

The investigatory wordeo was a Republican family quarrel. On the front porch.

The Democrats helped it along because they were popping some corn of their own on the hospitable hearth. They will get results in the ides of November. They're not forgetting the New Jersey and Wisconsin elections last fall. Straws show which way the soda water goes.

After being loose from emoluments and appurtenences of office for 20 years the GOP naturally forgot how to act during an investigation.

Too bad one of the old Tammany sachems didnt' write a cook book of old tribal recipes. They're the slickers who could tear up 11 blocks of city streets on a snow-cleaning contract.

You cannot call these first two years of Republican office a shake-down cruise. The Democrats shook everybody down long before that.

And once again they are going to capitalize on the GOP inability to blow hot and cold with the same hair dryer.

Congress will go along for the ride. Provided it can ride the White House.

Franklin Dee knew how to handle the desk-hands on Capitoline Hill. He changed the motto olucernment to, "E Pluribus or Else."

Franklin gave Congress one of two choices. With Franklin supplying both.

Junkets And Junkets

By Bob Considine

HONOLULU (INS) — "Dear Mr. Constantine," writes a constant reader. "You mentioned the word 'junket' in a recent article. Tell me, Bill, what is a junket? I always thought it was a kind of quick-mix pudding, but now I am confused. Yours in sport,

"Deborah Considine, age 6."

Dear Miss: A junket is — indeed — not a pudding. It is a flight in a flying machine, generally, though junkets involving other means of travel have been committed in the past. Briefly, a group of people who can well afford to travel out of their own pockets are picked up and taken to some place they've already seen, but this time on the cuff.

It is a very pleasant form of nomad life, young woman, and I hope you grow up to be a part of it. The best way to get into the junket business is to be elected to Congress. The next best way is to get into the newspaper 'game' as all red-blooded American reporters call it, or in the other rapid-fire, stop the press news media that has sprung up around it, like the Yale quarterly.

If you make it to Congress you can practically create your own junkets. If the old lady, as you'll affectionately call your wife, gets too oppressive about the end of the session (and she will) just come home to her some night with a long face and say, 'Prunella, Pearl, President Eddie Fisher called me today and asked me to look into the Bramsk situation in Umsk. The secretary of guided missiles is sending a WAC corporal for me first thing in the morning. Toodaloo." And you're off.

It is safe to say that if President G. Washington had shot the first would-be junketeer (one Ebenezer Flubb of Virginia who had a hankering to see far off West Virginia for free) there would now be no deficit and we could have underwritten all wars from the Crimean on. The congressmen who have sped to Honolulu alone (this is a tough one to shake the wife off) would have saved it from Japanese attack by sheer weight of numbers, or sunk the place into the Pacific O., if assembled at once.

You may ask "what is done on junkets?" Well, constant reader, that's a puzzler. The congressmen usually write up a report, used generally to wrap gift seeds in. In this way they give their findings to the people. The souvenirs they keep. But other junkets make more sense and have some legitimate news value.

I remember, for example, the voyage of the S. S. United States from Newport News to New York. It proved that we had the fastest big ship in the world — after a century of forlorn maritime rivalry with England, France and Germany. It proved to the world, too, that the biggest town in the land could welcome a ship with the same ear-splitting reception as must have greeted the return of old Yankee clippers in the 1840's and '50's.

The Air Force, Navy and Army have run some instructive junkets through the years, a few devoted to the greater honor and glory of the brass, most of them dedicated to explaining the scope, muscles and complexity of the security the people are buying.

This trip is newsworthy. It is the first DC7 flight to Hawaii, the first time United or any other airline has flown passengers from New York to this fragrant isle (5,000 miles) between breakfast and two-finger chlorophyl poi. It brings an important part of the United States a little closer to a place in the star-studded section of the American flag.

It also recalls an incident that happened not too long ago in the office of a publisher who requested his secretary to get his editor on the telephone.

The efficient secretary passed the word to the chief telephone operator whose job included the task of keeping track of the editor and other key members of the staff in the event of an emergency.

In this instance the chief operator knew the editor had flown more than 5,000 miles from his New York desk to enjoy a junket in Honolulu. She had him on the telephone in a matter of minutes and put the call through to the publisher.

"Bill," said the publisher, "I want you to come over and have lunch with me, say in about 20 minutes."

"Boss," the editor exclaimed, "I didn't know you came along! Where shall it be, the Royal Hawaiian or the Surf Club?"

And in closing, guess what we were served on United's "dawn to dusk" flight leaving San Francisco?

Junket? Right!

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The heart is one of our most dependable organs. It beats 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, and occasionally for 100 years or more. Some say the structure never rests but it sneaks in a wink or two between each contraction, which provides all the needed rest.

The pulse varies at different ages. The rate is between 140 and 150 prior to birth; in the first year the count drops to between 110 and 130. By the third year, it registers 80 to 105; and at ages 7 to 14, the beat is 75 to 90. Seventy is the midpoint of the normal adult male pulse which ranges from 50 to 100. Women often have readings eight to 10 points higher than men.

A pulse rate of 50 or less is considered slow; above 100 is rapid. A slow beat is preferable because it means the old ticker is doing less work. Furthermore, the rest period is longer. Ten beats less per minute adds up to 600 per hour, or 14,400 in a 24-hour period. This really amounts to something over a period of years and explans why there are so many oldsters with a slow pulse.

The normal heart pumps approximately 166 gallons of blood each hour. By age 70, it has beaten more than 2½ billion times, and pumped more than 100 million gallons of fluid. It is capable of more work than most of our modern engines, and if it were possible to compare autos with hearts, most of us would be forced to drive a car for more than a million miles to get out of it the same volume of work that we expect from the old ticker.

There is nothing magic about the heart. This four-chambered muscular pump is built to circulate blood through arteries, veins, and capillaries. In this way, oxygen and nutrients are carried to the tissues and in return carbon dioxide and waste products are conveyed to the lungs and organs of excretion.

The structure is not immune to infection and deterioration and the various conditions that stem from these disorders result in heart disease. The heart differs from a mechanical pump; it does not stall when handicapped but enlarges and becomes stronger. The chamber walls strengthen, the pumping rate increases, or both. The defective heart is thus able to compensate and will continue to beat until it is overtaxed, thoroughly exhausted, or deprived of its own blood supply.

The heart muscle does not derive its nourishment from the blood that passes through the chambers but has its own vessels (coronary arteries and cardiac veins). The coronary arteries are most susceptible to arteriosclerosis; and chest pain (angina pectoris) develops when these vessels are no longer capable of supplying enough blood to meet the demands of the heart muscle.

TOMORROW: Operations for oldsters.

PICK AND CHOOSE

W. G. writes: What is Pick's disease?

REPLY

Four diseases have been named after four different physicians with the same last name of Pick. One is degeneration, or softening of the brain; a second is erythromelia, a painless reddening of the skin of the limbs; a third is inflammation of the sac that surrounds the heart (pericardium); and a fourth, a disturbance in fat metabolism.

WHAT KIND?

F. T. writes: Which is worse: a tumor or a growth?

REPLY

We lump these lesions together because they are the same, and they are classified as benign (innocent) or malignant (cancerous).

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Back from a three-day business trip, a husband admitted to his wife that he was utterly bushed. "Not only was I rushing around fourteen hours a day," he complained, "but I had to sleep in a saloon." "A saloon!" gasped his wife. "Do you mean to say that in that whole city you couldn't find a decent room?" "There were rooms enough," confessed the husband, "but none with bars in them."

Have you heard about the optician's daughter? Two glasses and she made a spectacle of herself.

Old codger in a sleepy New England village had lived in the same ramshackle cottage since the day of his birth many years ago. Suddenly he startled his cronies by gathering his few belongings and moving into the house next door.

"What's the big idea?" everybody asked him. He scratched his head and admitted, "Durned if I know myself. Must be the gypsy in me!"

Max Schmeling and Joe Louis met again in Chicago the other day. This time, however, all they did was exchange smiles.

A sharp rise in water consumption during the evening hours is blamed by Waterbury, Conn., city engineers on television viewers drinking water while they watch the late, late movies. Those beer commercials do make a fellow thirsty!

The Russians, we read, are determined to win the next Olympic Games. There go those Reds, muscling in again!

Chamber Backing City As Site For Conventions

"Let's Get Alive in '55. Vote For Cumberland," is the slogan adopted by the Chamber of Commerce in encouraging the holding of conventions in this city next year.

This plan, according to Anthony Saeli, Chamber manager, is part of the continuing efforts to promote the city, its tourist attractions, industry and historical points of interest.

Firemen Seek Convention

The slogan was dreamed up by the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association which is seeking to bring the state convention here next year. The Chamber of Commerce is joining in that effort.

Saeli has had printed several hundred of the slogans on name card type squares of heavy paper. Each of the Allegany-Garrett firemen delegates to the conventions in Ocean City June 23, 24, 25 will wear one of these enclosed in a plastic case. In addition, hundreds more will be passed out to delegates from every part of the state.

Saeli said firemen and the chamber are making a major effort to attract the state convention here next year. As a further aid, the chamber will send to the convention a telegram urging and inviting firemen to the "Queen City." Additional literature on its attributes will probably be distributed by delegates.

Aided K. of C. Delegates

A similar effort by the chamber in cooperation with local Council 586, Knights of Columbus, helped the group to "land" next year's state convention of the K. of C. at its recent meeting in Ocean City.

It will mark the first time in eight years that the convention has been held anywhere except the Eastern Shore resort.

The chamber worked "hand in glove" with Grand Knight William V. Keegan to bring the convention here. The local delegation attended "armed" with letters from the Mayor and Council, Chamber of Commerce, promotion folders on history, tourist attractions, industry and other interesting data including Route 40; maps of historical places, city maps and lists of hotels, motels, tourist homes, eating places and other items of interest to a convention in choosing a meeting site. All this material was included in a book, presented to Keegan and the K. of C. leader and delegates "politicked" the state session here for next year.

Jaycees To Convene Here

Already, another convention has been set here. That will be the state Jaycee meeting next year with Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce as host.

Saeli bared this facet of the chamber's promotional efforts today and at the same time pointed to these other upcoming events which will further place Cumberland in the "spotlight."

The chamber manager is preparing an article to be accompanied by a picture for "Maryland Insurance News" which is featuring a series of articles on historical attractions.

He has sent to television station WSVA, Harrisonburg, Va., a number of still photos which will be telecast in a series of programs planned by that video outlet in the near future.

Then on Thursday, June 17, he says, Cumberland will be host to another important group.

That day prominent industrialists and railroad officials from four states will be here for a meeting of executive and railroad contact committees of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board. The meeting will be held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Of particular interest will be a forecast of carloadings for the third quarter as an indication of future business activity.

Excavators Find Old Well Under Prospect Square

An old well which might have been part of historic Fort Cumberland was uncovered yesterday in the street of Prospect Square by C&A Gas Company workmen who are replacing gas lines there.

Observers believe it more likely that the well once served the old building at 37 Washington Street, next door to the library, which is now used by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and the Soil Conservation Service. That structure, more than 150 years old, once housed the County Jail and later was a temporary Court House.

Workers for the Baughman Contracting Company, Inc., who are doing the excavating work, said the well is 55 or 60 feet deep, about four feet in diameter and is lined with bricks. There was a little water in the bottom of the well.

The well is aproximately 18 inches below the street surface and poses a mystery why the roadway has not sunk before, Andrew W. Heller, city street superintendent, said. Workmen digging through the street paving, found only ballast between the surface and some brick which might be the well arch, Heller added.

Chamber Backing City As Site For Conventions

"Let's Get Alive in '55. Vote For Cumberland," is the slogan adopted by the Chamber of Commerce in encouraging the holding of conventions in this city next year.

This plan, according to Anthony Saeli, Chamber manager, is part of the continuing efforts to promote the city, its tourist attractions, industry and historical points of interest.

Firemen Seek Convention

The slogan was dreamed up by the Allegany-Garrett Volunteer Firemen's Association which is seeking to bring the state convention here next year. The Chamber of Commerce is joining in that effort.

Saeli has had printed several hundred of the slogans on name card type squares of heavy paper. Each of the Allegany-Garrett firemen delegates to the conventions in Ocean City June 23, 24, 25 will wear one of these enclosed in a plastic case. In addition, hundreds more will be passed out to delegates from every part of the state.

Saeli said firemen and the chamber are making a major effort to attract the state convention here next year. As a further aid, the chamber will send to the convention a telegram urging and inviting firemen to the "Queen City." Additional literature on its attributes will probably be distributed by delegates.

Aided K. of C. Delegates

A similar effort by the chamber in cooperation with local Council 586, Knights of Columbus, helped the group to "land" next year's state convention of the K. of C. at its recent meeting in Ocean City.

It will mark the first time in eight years that the convention has been held anywhere except the Eastern Shore resort.

The chamber worked "hand in glove" with Grand Knight William V. Keegan to bring the convention here. The local delegation attended "armed" with letters from the Mayor and Council, Chamber of Commerce, promotion folders on history, tourist attractions, industry and other interesting data including Route 40; maps of historical places, city maps and lists of hotels, motels, tourist homes, eating places and other items of interest to a convention in choosing a meeting site. All this material was included in a book, presented to Keegan and the K. of C. leader and delegates "politicked" the state session here for next year.

Jaycees To Convene Here

Already, another convention has been set here. That will be the state Jaycee meeting next year with Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce as host.

Saeli bared this facet of the chamber's promotional efforts today and at the same time pointed to these other upcoming events which will further place Cumberland in the "spotlight."

The chamber manager is preparing an article to be accompanied by a picture for "Maryland Insurance News" which is featuring a series of articles on historical attractions.

He has sent to television station WSVA, Harrisonburg, Va., a number of still photos which will be telecast in a series of programs planned by that video outlet in the near future.

Then on Thursday, June 17, he says, Cumberland will be host to another important group.

That day prominent industrialists and railroad officials from four states will be here for a meeting of executive and railroad contact committees of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board. The meeting will be held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Of particular interest will be a forecast of carloadings for the third quarter as an indication of future business activity.

Excavators Find Old Well Under Prospect Square

An old well which might have been part of historic Fort Cumberland was uncovered yesterday in the street of Prospect Square by C&A Gas Company workmen who are replacing gas lines there.

Observers believe it more likely that the well once served the old building at 37 Washington Street, next door to the library, which is now used by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee and the Soil Conservation Service. That structure, more than 150 years old, once housed the County Jail and later was a temporary Court House.

Workers for the Baughman Contracting Company, Inc., who are doing the excavating work, said the well is 55 or 60 feet deep, about four feet in diameter and is lined with bricks. There was a little water in the bottom of the well.

The well is aproximately 18 inches below the street surface and poses a mystery why the roadway has not sunk before. Andrew W. Heller, city street superintendent, said. Workmen digging through the street paving, found only ballast between the surface and some brick which might be the well arch, Heller added.

Davis Makes Statement In Council Race

Frank J. Davis, 613 Maryland Avenue, plumbing and heating contractor who filed last week as a candidate for City Council in the primary election Tuesday, yesterday issued a campaign statement in connection with his candidacy.

His statement:

"I have been requested by hundreds of friends and voters since the first of the year to file for City Council. So I am seeking office, expecting their support at the polls and I promise to work for the betterment of Cumberland and all of our citizens.

"I would like to say I am an independent candidate and not running on any slate, although I know it is almost impossible to be elected as independent, but I would prefer to remain independent.

"I am against the plans for a crosstown overhead bridge now as I was in 1946 and as an alternate route we can have a subway from Park to Commerce streets, then build a new street from Commerce Street to South Mechanic Street, and start an overhead bridge on the west side of South Mechanic Street to what is left of Riverside Park.

"If both railroads are sincere in wanting to help our traffic problem in conjunction with the State Roads Commission, then we will go far in helping to clear up this situation.

"Cumberland needs more water storage since supplying our neighbors in the outlying districts. But it is a job for engineers to figure out how we can best accomplish this. I am in favor of more water for Cumberland.

"Cumberland needs a modern sewage disposal plant, but when it comes to treating sewage for other than the City of Cumberland, that is something that will need study and cost estimation. The states of Maryland and West Virginia must also take part in this endeavor as quite a bit of pollution comes from above in the Potomac River above the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation.

"I have, all of my adult life, tried to live by the Golden Rule. I like people and I hope they like me. When I am in doubt, I have friends to go to for advice and counsel.

"Sometimes we disagree, but we try to iron out our differences to try and satisfy all concerned.

"In my fraternal and business affairs I find handling money belonging to others is a task that requires sound judgment in spending. Therefore, by my past achievements, my friends and associates believe the same as I do that I am qualified for the office I seek."

Divorces Granted

Two divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court. Elmer G. Kalbaugh has been given a divorce from Etta M. Kalbaugh. Joan A. Harvey has been awarded a divorce from Harry A. Harvey and custody of their minor child.

Ryan Is Waging District Fight For House Seat

Allegany County's candidate for Congress, Edward J. Ryan of Frostburg, has been waging a whirlwind campaign throughout the Sixth District in his fight for the Democratic nomination.

The past two weeks have seen him in practically every corner of the counties east of here, speaking and making contacts.

He left yesterday for engagements at Rockville and Silver Spring today and Friday. On his return he will speak at Sandy Hook in Washington County.

To Speak In Frostburg

On Memorial Day he will deliver the principal address at the observance being sponsored by Farrady Post 24, American Legion, in Frostburg.

Tuesday, June 1, Ryan will be on the program of a Democratic rally at Silver Spring High School. Wednesday, June 2, will find him at the Frederick County Jeffersonian Club dinner in Frederick, and Saturday, June 5, Ryan will be in Kensington.

June 7 the local attorney will return to Frederick to be on the program of a Democratic Party event in the Frederick Moose Hall.

Thursday, June 10, he will participate in a panel discussion at Bethesda with his two opponents for the nomination, F. Byrne Austin and Charles Irelan, both Montgomery Countians.

Last week Ryan toured Frederick County, stopping in Emmitsburg, Woodsboro, New Market, Walkersville and Frederick.

Addresses Women

Two weeks ago he was in Montgomery County, speaking before the Young Democratic Club of Montgomery County at Silver Spring. He also spoke before the Maryland League of Women Voters at College Park.

In a talk last week at a meeting of the Washington County Democratic Club, Ryan told the 100 members and guests present that Republican policies have "led us into a desert of fear."

Permit For Dwelling Approved By Engineer

Charles F. Whitman, 23 Woodlawn Terrace, has been granted a permit by the building engineer to construct a one-story brick dwelling on Lot 80 and 632 Frederick Street.

Estimated cost of the 26 by 34 foot structure is $6,000. The foundation will be of concerte block and the roof of composition shingles.

Wolford Receives Suspended Term In Local Court

Irvin Wolford, 27, of Mechanic Street, Frostburg, was given a suspended 90-day jail sentence yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to charges of assault and carrying a concealed weapon in his automobile.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason ordered him to be of good behavior.

State Police said Wolford and a companion parked Monday at a lane leading into the property of Clement Helmstetter, Cash Valley Road. Helmstetter sent his daughter, Ann Elizabeth, 10, and son, Clement, 18, to advise the defendant to leave.

When the Helmstetters reached the auto on their bicycle, Wolford drew a pistol from the glove compartment and reportedly pointed it in their direction. The girl became frightened and fled while her brother remained at the car.

Wolford told authorities he was only trying to "show off" and did not point the weapon at the children but at the bicycle. The gun was found in his car.

Specifically, Wolford was charged with assaulting the girl. No physical force was used, however.

SS Induction Station Will Move Location

The U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting-Induction Station and Armed Forces Examining Station in Baltimore will be moved to Fort Holabird, effective June 14.

Local Selective Service registrants are sent to Fairmont, W. Va., for induction and physical examinations.

Murder Trial Will Be Held Tomorrow

Two psychiatrists have reported that the 23-year-old Bowman's Addition woman charged with drowning her four-month-old baby is mentally incompetent, attorneys for the defense announced yesterday.

Mrs. Shirley Alice Rephann has been charged with murder of her daughter, Karen Gail, on February 11 by drowning her in a half-filled bathtub.

She will be tried before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris tomorrow at 9:15 a. m.

Mrs. Rephann has been in custody since the day the baby was found dead in the bathtub by her husband, Donald E. Rephann, as he returned from work at the Western Maryland Railway shops.

On February 20 following the filing of a writ of habeas corpus by her attorneys, William L. Wilson and Edward J. Ryan, she was committed to Spring Grove State Hospital at Catonsville.

Judge Harris ordered her placed there for observation so that she could be declared either mentally competent or mentally incompetent.

Ryan said yesterday that he has received the report of Dr. Isadore Tuerk, superintendent of the hospital, stating that the woman has been judged by specialists there to be mentally incompetent.

This report coincides with the one made by Dr. Mannfred Guttmacher, criminal psychiatrist for the Supreme Bench in Baltimore, who examined the woman and also found her to be mentally incompetent.

Ryan said Wilson will enter a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity and that she should be recommitted to the institution for mentally ill persons.

The defense counsel said the hearing will probably result in the young mother being sent back to Spring Grove State Hospital.

Do . . .

Prescriptions Cost Too Much?

There's another way of putting this question. You can also ask—how much should you pay for a miracle?

Before the discovery of the wonder drugs like penicillin, the sulfas and others, many common illnesses were genuine family tragedies. Two examples were influenza, and pneumonia.

When either of these struck, the family breadwinner was off the job a long time. And sometimes permanently.

Million-dollar laboratories are working day and night to bring you and your doctor new discoveries in drugs that will make you well, keep you well. To you and everyone, that means less off-the-job-time, fewer deaths, longer life.

Any prescription that helps to accomplish that for you is a reasonable investment . . . isn't it?

Most drugs cost very little — thanks to American business volume and American competition, both of which keep prices low. Our fellow-scientist, the doctor, knows as we do that the miracle drugs do cost a little more, but a miracle, after all, is worth much more than dollars. Your doctor believes that. We do. Don't you?

Davis Makes Statement In Council Race

Frank J. Davis, 613 Maryland Avenue, plumbing and heating contractor who filed last week as a candidate for City Council in the primary election Tuesday, yesterday issued a campaign statement in connection with his candidacy.

His statement:

"I have been requested by hundreds of friends and voters since the first of the year to file for City Council. So I am seeking office, expecting their support at the polls and I promise to work for the betterment of Cumberland and all of our citizens.

"I would like to say I am an independent candidate and not running on any slate, although I know it is almost impossible to be elected as independent, but I would prefer to remain independent.

"I am against the plans for a crosstown overhead bridge now as I was in 1946 and as an alternate route we can have a subway from Park to Commerce streets, then build a new street from Commerce Street to South Mechanic Street, and start an overhead bridge on the west side of South Mechanic Street to what is left of Riverside Park.

"If both railroads are sincere in wanting to help our traffic problem in conjunction with the State Roads Commission, then we will go far in helping to clear up this situation.

"Cumberland needs more water storage since supplying our neighbors in the outlying districts. But it is a job for engineers to figure out how we can best accomplish this. I am in favor of more water for Cumberland.

"Cumberland needs a modern sewage disposal plant, but when it comes to treating sewage for other than the City of Cumberland, that is something that will need study and cost estimation. The states of Maryland and West Virginia must also take part in this endeavor as quite a bit of pollution comes from above in the Potomac River above the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation.

"I have, all of my adult life, tried to live by the Golden Rule. I like people and I hope they like me. When I am in doubt, I have friends to go to for advice and counsel.

"Sometimes we disagree, but we try to iron out our differences to try and satisfy all concerned.

"In my fraternal and business affairs I find handling money belonging to others is a task that requires sound judgment in spending. Therefore, by my past achievements, my friends and associates believe the same as I do that I am qualified for the office I seek."

Prescriptions Cost Too Much?

There's another way of putting this question. You can also ask—how much should you pay for a miracle?

Before the discovery of the wonder drugs like penicillin, the sulfas and others, many common illnesses were genuine family tragedies. Two examples were influenza, and pneumonia.

When either of these struck, the family breadwinner was off the job a long time. And sometimes permanently.

Million-dollar laboratories are working day and night to bring you and your doctor new discoveries in drugs that will make you well, keep you well. To you and everyone, that means less off-the-job-time, fewer deaths, longer life.

Any prescription that helps to accomplish that for you is a reasonable investment . . . isn't it?

Most drugs cost very little — thanks to American business volume and American competition, both of which keep prices low. Our fellow-scientist, the doctor, knows as we do that the miracle drugs do cost a little more, but a miracle, after all, is worth much more than dollars. Your doctor believes that. We do. Don't you?

Divorces Granted

Two divorces have been granted in Allegany County Circuit Court. Elmer G. Kalbaugh has been given a divorce from Etta M. Kalbaugh. Joan A. Harvey has been awarded a divorce from Harry A. Harvey and custody of their minor child.

Ryan Is Waging District Fight For House Seat

Allegany County's candidate for Congress, Edward J. Ryan of Frostburg, has been waging a whirlwind campaign throughout the Sixth District in his fight for the Democratic nomination.

The past two weeks have seen him in practically every corner of the counties east of here, speaking and making contacts.

He left yesterday for engagements at Rockville and Silver Spring today and Friday. On his return he will speak at Sandy Hook in Washington County.

To Speak In Frostburg

On Memorial Day he will deliver the principal address at the observance being sponsored by Farrady Post 24, American Legion, in Frostburg.

Tuesday, June 1, Ryan will be on the program of a Democratic rally at Silver Spring High School. Wednesday, June 2, will find him at the Frederick County Jeffersonian Club dinner in Frederick, and Saturday, June 5, Ryan will be in Kensington.

June 7 the local attorney will return to Frederick to be on the program of a Democratic Party event in the Frederick Moose Hall.

Thursday, June 10, he will participate in a panel discussion at Bethesda with his two opponents for the nomination, F. Byrne Austin and Charles Irelan, both Montgomery Countians.

Last week Ryan toured Frederick County, stopping in Emmitsburg, Woodsboro, New Market, Walkersville and Frederick.

Addresses Women

Two weeks ago he was in Montgomery County, speaking before the Young Democratic Club of Montgomery County at Silver Spring. He also spoke before the Maryland League of Women Voters at College Park.

In a talk last week at a meeting of the Washington County Democratic Club, Ryan told the 100 members and guests present that Republican policies have "led us into a desert of fear."

Permit For Dwelling Approved By Engineer

Charles F. Whitman, 23 Woodlawn Terrace, has been granted a permit by the building engineer to construct a one-story brick dwelling on Lot 80 and 632 Frederick Street.

Estimated cost of the 26 by 34 foot structure is $6,000. The foundation will be of concerte block and the roof of composition shingles.

Wolford Receives Suspended Term In Local Court

Irvin Wolford, 27, of Mechanic Street, Frostburg, was given a suspended 90-day jail sentence yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court after he pleaded guilty to charges of assault and carrying a concealed weapon in his automobile.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason ordered him to be of good behavior.

State Police said Wolford and a companion parked Monday at a lane leading into the property of Clement Helmstetter, Cash Valley Road. Helmstetter sent his daughter, Ann Elizabeth, 10, and son, Clement, 18, to advise the defendant to leave.

When the Helmstetters reached the auto on their bicycle, Wolford drew a pistol from the glove compartment and reportedly pointed it in their direction. The girl became frightened and fled while her brother remained at the car.

Wolford told authorities he was only trying to "show off" and did not point the weapon at the children but at the bicycle. The gun was found in his car.

Specifically, Wolford was charged with assaulting the girl. No physical force was used, however.

SS Induction Station Will Move Location

The U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting-Induction Station and Armed Forces Examining Station in Baltimore will be moved to Fort Holabird, effective June 14.

Local Selective Service registrants are sent to Fairmont, W. Va., for induction and physical examinations.

Murder Trial Will Be Held Tomorrow

Two psychiatrists have reported that the 23-year-old Bowman's Addition woman charged with drowning her four-month-old baby is mentally incompetent, attorneys for the defense announced yesterday.

Mrs. Shirley Alice Rephann has been charged with murder of her daughter, Karen Gail, on February 11 by drowning her in a half-filled bathtub.

She will be tried before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris tomorrow at 9:15 a. m.

Mrs. Rephann has been in custody since the day the baby was found dead in the bathtub by her husband, Donald E. Rephann, as he returned from work at the Western Maryland Railway shops.

On February 20 following the filing of a writ of habeas corpus by her attorneys, William L. Wilson and Edward J. Ryan, she was committed to Spring Grove State Hospital at Catonsville.

Judge Harris ordered her placed there for observation so that she could be declared either mentally competent or mentally incompetent.

Ryan said yesterday that he has received the report of Dr. Isadore Tuerk, superintendent of the hospital, stating that the woman has been judged by specialists there to be mentally incompetent.

This report coincides with the one made by Dr. Mannfred Guttmacher, criminal psychiatrist for the Supreme Bench in Baltimore, who examined the woman and also found her to be mentally incompetent.

Ryan said Wilson will enter a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity and that she should be recommitted to the institution for mentally ill persons.

The defense counsel said the hearing will probably result in the young mother being sent back to Spring Grove State Hospital.

Dale Carnegie Unit Plans Year-Round Flag Program

Plans for a "year-round" American flag program will be mapped at a dinner meeting today at 6:30 p. m. in Minke's Cottage Inn by Allegany Chapter, Dale Carnegie Club International.

In connection with a national campaign sponsored by DCCI, the local chapter will seek to have all homes, public and private buildings display the flag on Memorial Day and other holidays.

Invited to speak at the get-together for members, wives and friends are Gov. Warren Strayer of Division 13, Johnstown; Leroy D. Reichert, president of Herbert Brown Chapter, Baltimore; Art Forsythe of Baltimore Institute, and Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, Cumberland pathologist.

Dr. Skitarelic will discuss phases of the recent Sports Car races held at Municipal Airport under auspices of the Lions Club here. Panel discussions will follow.

James J. Condon will be toastmaster.

In line with the flag program, chapter officials said area school principals will be asked to have teachers inform students concerning the importance of exhibiting the flag and patriotism. The youngsters, in turn, will relay the message to their parents and adults.

Anthony J. Yockus, secretary, heads the flag campaign. He will be assisted by Homer Berry, Frank Warner and Condon. John Lindner is president of the chapter.

The next meeting will be held June 9.

Water Right Dispute To Be Heard Today

A dispute over water rights on adjacent properties in Klondike will be heard before Allegany County Circuit Court today.

Wilbur Ewing filed the action against Anna Piper. Leslie J. Clark is attorney for the plaintiff and Edward J. Ryan for the defendant.

Mattingly Resigns

Francis H. Mattingly, 119 Hanover Street, announced yesterday he has resigned as local manager for Mutual of Omaha insurance company.

Two More Beer Licenses Issued

Two more beer licenses have been issued by the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Nellie L. Thomas was issued one for 9 Union Street, Lonaconing, and the other was issued to David R Hamilton for premises at Moscow.

Runaway Is Nabbed On One-Way Street

A young couple who borrowed an automobile and "ran away to get married" was taken into custody early yesterday for driving the wrong way on Mechanic Street.

Held temporarily were Miss Emma Hatala, 18, Weirton, W. Va., and James E. O'Shanka of Smith Township, Washington County, Pa.

Still attired in an evening gown with trimmings, Miss Hatala told authorities she attended a dance before the trip to Cumberland. O'Shanka had no registration card for the vehicle but he carried a driver's license.

Property Deeds Total $28,850

Some $28,850 was involved in three deeds filed Monday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, according to stamps affixed to the deeds.

Allegany County Commissioners transferred the old Dutch Hollow School property near Mt. Savage to Harvey Ray Kirby and Charles William Kirby for $350. The Kirbys were high bidders to the property which was abandoned by the Allegany County Board of Education.

Robert E. Barnard Jr. and Josephine W. Barnard have purchased property in The Dingle formerly owned by Charles E. Metz from the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Storey, Mechlenburg County, N. C. The purchase price was an estimated $18,000.

Therman F. Leasure and Gertrude C. Leasure have sold to Patrick A. Tierney and Sarah J. Tierney the property at 11 North Allegany Street for approximately $10,500.

Dale Carnegie Unit Plans Year-Round Flag Program

Plans for a "year-round" American flag program will be mapped at a dinner meeting today at 6:30 p. m. in Minke's Cottage Inn by Allegany Chapter, Dale Carnegie Club International.

In connection with a national campaign sponsored by DCCI, the local chapter will seek to have all homes, public and private buildings display the flag on Memorial Day and other holidays.

Invited to speak at the get-together for members, wives and friends are Gov. Warren Strayer of Division 13, Johnstown; Leroy D. Reichert, president of Herbert Brown Chapter, Baltimore; Art Forsythe of Baltimore Institute, and Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, Cumberland pathologist.

Dr. Skitarelic will discuss phases of the recent Sports Car races held at Municipal Airport under auspices of the Lions Club here. Panel discussions will follow.

James J. Condon will be toastmaster.

In line with the flag program, chapter officials said area school principals will be asked to have teachers inform students concerning the importance of exhibiting the flag and patriotism. The youngsters, in turn, will relay the message to their parents and adults.

Anthony J. Yockus, secretary, heads the flag campaign. He will be assisted by Homer Berry, Frank Warner and Condon. John Lindner is president of the chapter.

The next meeting will be held June 9.

Still attired in an evening gown with trimmings, Miss Hatala told authorities she attended a dance before the trip to Cumberland. O'Shanka had no registration card for the vehicle but he carried a driver's license.

LaSalle Scores 7th Straight Win; Ft. Hill Edges Hyndman

Sentinels Cop 2-1 Decision On Wild Pitch

Explorers Blast Mt. Savage, 15-3, To Extend String

LaSalle High's league-leading Explorers blasted Mt. Savage 15-3 on the Braves' field while Fort Hill's Sentinels edged Hyndman 2-1 in the ninth inning on a wild pitch at Hyndman in two important Bi-State Conference baseball games yesterday.

For the high-flying Explorers it was the seventh straight victory and the 11th in 13 games for the conference leaders.

Bill Roberts coasted to his third win this year by pitching four-hit shutout ball for six innings for Coach George Geatz' Explorers. Ricky Harris, LaSalle third baseman, took over in the seventh and yielded all the Mt. Savage runs on two hits and a walk while striking out two.

Spearman Hits Homer

LaSalle, sparked by a 10-hit attack which included two doubles by Denny Shuck and a triple by Harris, came within two games of clinching a tie for the conference championship. Barney Spearman clouted a homerun for the Explorers with two mates aboard in the second to get the visitors off and winging toward their 11th win.

Dick Robeson had two hits for Mt. Savage and Kenneth Brant chipped in with a three-bagger in a losing cause for the Braves.

Don May, Hyndman pitcher, kept 10 Fort Hill hits well scattered but lost the decision when he wild pitched the winning run home with two out in the second overtime frame.

Hyndman took the lead with a tally in the third but the Sentinels knotted the count at 1-1 by scoring in the fifth when Dorcil Kline was safe on Dennison's error with two out. Kline stole second and scored on Freddie Wolford's single.

Scores On Wild Pitch

In the ninth with one out Donnie Irons pinch hit a single for Pat Souders and took second on Bruce Lynn's base knock. Ed Puffenburger, the winning pitcher, then singled but Irons was out at the plate on a fine throw by leftfielder Robosson with Lynn taking third. While attempting an intentional pass to Galen McGregor, Don May, the Hyndman twirler, threw wild past the catcher and Lynn scored the winning tally.

Meanwhile Brother Thomas, LaSalle athletic director, announced the Explorer-Allegany postponed contest will be played at Penn Avenue field June 7 at 4 p.m.

Strafaci Loses 25-Hole British Amateur Match

Toogood Scores On Missed 3-Foot Putt

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 26 (AP)—Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., missed an easy three-foot putt on the 25th green today to lose a heartbreaking overtime match in the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament.

The defeat of the swarthy New Yorker at the hands of Australia's young Peter Toogood after a spectacular comeback overshadowed the advance of five Americans—the two prime U. S. favorites, Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell, and a trio of servicemen.

The surviving U. S. servicemen were Harold Ridgley, a 40-year-old master sergeant from Havertown, Pa.; Dick Davies, the 23-year-old Golfing Sailor from Annandale, Calif., and Maj. W. D. Henderson of San Francisco.

Four down after the first eight holes, Strafaci rallied to knot the match at the 18th. Then the two went at it, hole after hole, until the 25th when Toogood sank a tough cross grain putt in the 157-yard payoff hole and Strafaci missed from three feet.

The New Yorker missed a putt of even shorter length—a two-footer—on the 22nd which would have given him the match.

Stranahan, the winner in 1948 and 1950 and co-favorite with Carr, played steady golf to trounce Dr. R. J. Henderson of England 4 and 3, and William Kirkpatrick of Scotland 6 and 5.

Campbell, towering Walker Cup star, looked completely beaten in his matches but rallied to win both. He defeated John Mill of Scotland 1 up in the morning, but had to sink a 27-foot putt on the 16th hole to tie the match and a 30-footer on the 18th to win it. In the fourth round he was down two holes at the turn but spurted on the back nine to beat Stuart Murray of Scotland 2 up.

Potomac Valley Cubs Down Central Lunch, Stringtown Is Victor

The Potomac Valley Cubs made it two in a row over Central Lunch yesterday by knocking off the Lunchers for the second straight day at East Side. The score was 3-2 in eight innings.

Hayden Phillips, Cubs hurler, was tagged for 15 hits by the losers but was so tough in the pinches he stranded 13 runners. Although held to seven bingles by Claget McAlister the Cubs tallied the winning run in the top of the top half of the first overtime frame.

Cecil had two singles and Smouse a triple for the winners. Basilio collected three singles, Wolfe a double and two singles, Cage a double and single, Goss two singles and Keyser two singles in a losing cause for Central Lunch.

Chicago White Sox Win Over Cleveland On Michaels' Hit

Al Rosen Smashes Homer In 5-4 Loss

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP) — Cass Michael's long bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth gave Chicago a 5-4 victory over the jittery Cleveland Indians today to move the White Sox to within a half a game of the first-place Tribe.

Michaels slashed a 3-1 pitch by the fifth Indian pitcher, Hal Newhouser, far over the centerfielder's head to score Nellie Fox from third with the winning run.

The White Sox had exploited five stolen bases and a pitching error for a 4-2 lead going into the sixth when Al Rosen smashed his 12th homer of the season.

LaSalle Scores 7th Straight Win; Ft. Hill Edges Hyndman

Explorers Blast Mt. Savage, 15-3, To Extend String

LaSalle High's league-leading Explorers blasted Mt. Savage 15-3 on the Braves' field while Fort Hill's Sentinels edged Hyndman 2-1 in the ninth inning on a wild pitch at Hyndman in two important Bi-State Conference baseball games yesterday.

For the high-flying Explorers it was the seventh straight victory and the 11th in 13 games for the conference leaders.

Bill Roberts coasted to his third win this year by pitching four-hit shutout ball for six innings for Coach George Geatz' Explorers. Ricky Harris, LaSalle third baseman, took over in the seventh and yielded all the Mt. Savage runs on two hits and a walk while striking out two.

Spearman Hits Homer

LaSalle, sparked by a 10-hit attack which included two doubles by Denny Shuck and a triple by Harris, came within two games of clinching a tie for the conference championship. Barney Spearman clouted a homerun for the Explorers with two mates aboard in the second to get the visitors off and winging toward their 11th win.

Dick Robeson had two hits for Mt. Savage and Kenneth Brant chipped in with a three-bagger in a losing cause for the Braves.

At Hyndman Fort Hill's second-place Sentinels, trailing LaSalle by only a game, came from behind to beat Hyndman in an extra-inning thriller.

Don May, Hyndman pitcher, kept 10 Fort Hill hits well scattered but lost the decision when he wild pitched the winning run home with two out in the second overtime frame.

Hyndman took the lead with a tally in the third but the Sentinels knotted the count at 1-1 by scoring in the fifth when Dorcil Kline was safe on Dennison's error with two out. Kline stole second and scored on Freddie Wolford's single.

Scores On Wild Pitch

In the ninth with one out Donnie Irons pinch hit a single for Pat Souders and took second on Bruce Lynn's base knock, Ed Puffenburger, the winning pitcher, then ingled but Irons was out at the plate on a fine throw by leftfielder Robosson with Lynn taking third. While attempting an intentional pass to Galen McGregor, Don May, the Hyndman twirler, threw wild past the catcher and Lynn scored the winning tally.

Meanwhile Brother Thomas, LaSalle athletic director, announced the Explorer-Allegany postponed contest will be played at Penn Avenue field June 7 at 4 p.m.

Strafaci Loses 25-Hole British Amateur Match

Toogood Scores On Missed 3-Foot Putt

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 26 (AP)—Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., missed an easy three-foot putt on the 25th green today to lose a heartbreaking overtime match in the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf Tournament.

The defeat of the swarthy New Yorker at the hands of Australia's young Peter Toogood after a spectacular comeback overshadowed the advance of five Americans—the two prime U. S. favorites, Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell, and a trio of servicemen.

The surviving U. S. servicemen were Harold Ridgley, a 40-year-old master sergeant from Havertown, Pa.; Dick Davies, the 23-year-old Golfing Sailor from Annandale, Calif., and Maj. W. D. Henderson of San Francisco.

Four down after the first eight holes, Strafaci rallied to knot the match at the 18th. Then the two went at it, hole after hole, until the 25th when Toogood sank a tough cross grain putt in the 157-yard payoff hole and Strafaci missed from three feet.

The New Yorker missed a putt of even shorter length—a two-footer—on the 22nd which would have given him the match.

Stranahan, the winner in 1948 and 1950 and co-favorite with Carr, played steady golf to trounce Dr. R. J. Henderson of England 4 and 3, and William Kirkpatrick of Scotland 6 and 5.

Campbell, towering Walker Cup star, looked completely beaten in his matches but rallied to win both. He defeated John Mill of Scotland 1 up in the morning, but had to sink a 27-foot putt on the 16th hole to tie the match and a 30-footer on the 18th to win it. In the fourth round he was down two holes at the turn but spurted on the back nine to beat Stuart Murray of Scotland 2 up.

Chicago White Sox Win Over Cleveland On Michaels' Hit

Al Rosen Smashes Homer In 5-4 Loss

CHICAGO, May 26 (AP) — Cass Michael's long bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth gave Chicago a 5-4 victory over the jittery Cleveland Indians today to move the White Sox to within a half a game of the first-place Tribe.

Michaels slashed a 3-1 pitch by the fifth Indian pitcher, Hal Newhouser, far over the centerfielder's head to score Nellie Fox from third with the winning run.

The White Sox had exploited five stolen bases and a pitching error for a 4-2 lead going into the sixth when Al Rosen smashed his 12th homer of the season.

The Indians tied the game at 4-4 in the top of the ninth as pinch-hitter Joe Ginsberg slammed his first hit of the season, a triple to deep center, after George Strickland had singled with one out.

The game's second great Sox throw to the plate cut down Ginsberg as he tried to score the lead run on Al Smith's loft to Johnny Groth in center. In the seventh, another long fly by Smith was turned into a double play by Minnie Minoso's great peg from left to nail Strickland.

Field Batters Par In Tuneups For Colonial

Hogan Will Seek His Fifth Crown

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 26 (AP)—The field was stacked with aces today as 43 professionals and five amateurs moved through final tune-up rounds for the $25,000 Colonial national invitation golf tournament with the boys ganging up on that man—Ben Hogan.

Hogan, seeking his fifth Colonial jackpot in eight tries, was the one to beat as usual, but Ben couldn't be too sure of himself if what the others have done thus far stands up when the chips are down.

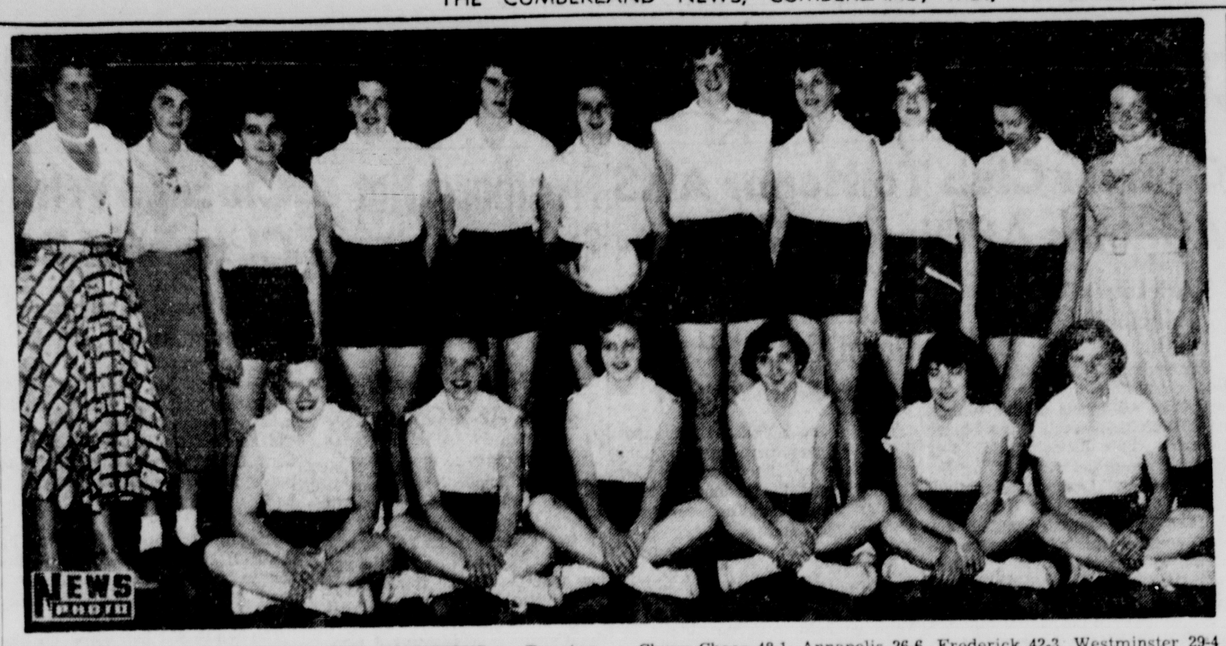

Already his foes have made par 70 over the 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course a laughing matter. The best round has been a ripping 65 by amateur Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth that tied the best competitive score. Hogan did a 65 in 1946—first year of the rich tournament—and Raymond Gafford of Dallas tied that in 1948. Gafford is in the field again.

Vossler's round was one of a dozen that cracked par. The most consistent wrecker of regulation figures has been Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., 1953 national amateur champion who now is a pro. Gene did a 67 and two 69's. Hogan has turned in two 68's.

Bob Toski, 127-pounder from Livingston, N. J., who has been the hottest golfer on the winter tour, winning three tournaments and leading in money earned, shot his first round today. He arrived too late yesterday to get in a tune-up. He is fresh from winning the Eastern Open at Baltimore.

There will be only two Colonial champions in the field—Hogan, and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, who took top money in 1951. Sam Snead, champion in 1950, hasn't played here since 1951.

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, veteran trainer, has stabled horses in the same barn at Hialeah every winter since the re-building of the track in 1931.

FORT HILL'S STATE VOLLEY BALL CHAMPIONS — Running roughshod over five opponents and registering 116 points to the opposition's 21, Fort Hill High School's volley ball team won the state championship for the second straight year on Saturday at College Park. It was Fort Hill's third title in four years of competition. The 1951 team bagged the first championship while the 1952 aggregation finished as the runner-up. Last year's team disposed of Bel Air, Annapolis, Towson and Glen Burnie. The present powerhouse outclassed all opponents Saturday, beating Bethesda-Chevy Chase 48-1, Annapolis 26-6, Frederick 42-3, Westminster 29-4 and Bel Air in the finals, 21-7. The Fort Hill champions, pictured above, left to right: FRONT ROW—Margaret Hafer, Carol Kline, Jeanette Hicks, Judy Snyder, Patricia Grim and Rebecca Reynolds. BACK ROW—Mrs. Henrietta Snyder, coach; Dolores Oldaker, assistant manager; Jo Ann Dickel, Jean Hinds, Sarah Mae Stewart, Annabelle Leatherman, Barbara Largent, Martha Catlett, Ruth Anne Hardinger, Patricia Thompson and Charleine Hornbrook, manager.

Army And Navy Athletes To Meet

ANNAPOLIS, May 26 (AP)—Army and Navy do athletic battle Saturday as a wrap-up to the spring sports season, with two championships hanging in the balance.

A lacrosse victory for either team at West Point would mean the national crown, since each holds a 9-0 record to date.

Navy would gain undisputed possession of the Eastern Intercollegiate Baseball League crown should the Middies defeat Army in the game scheduled for Annapolis.

The Navy tennis team travels to West Point, a strong favorite to win, while the army track team invades Annapolis as an underdog. Only the Middie golf team is rated a definite underdog in the five contests between the two service schools. Golf will be played on the Naval Academy course.

Gain Semi-Finals Of French Tourney

PARIS, May 26 (AP)—The United States and Australia gained a monopoly in the men's doubles semi-finals of the French International Tennis Championships today as the top teams—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas of the U. S. and Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall of Australia—scored straight set victories.

Meanwhile three American girls, including defending singles champion Maureen Connolly of San Diego, earned semi-final brackets in women's doubles.

Australia's youthful defending champions, Hoad and Rosewall, swept to a lopsided victory over France's Jean Borotra and Robert Abdesselam, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4. They showed no sign of the poor form which afflicted their singles play and put them both out before the semi-finals.

Trabert and Seixas were impressive almost with their smashing net play as they crushed Sven Davidson of Sweden and Neil Fraser of Australia 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

Miss Connolly teamed with Mrs. Nelly Hopman of Australia and whipped Miss Bucajille and Jacqueline Kermina of France 6-1, 6-1 in doubles.

U. S., Aussie Netters Score

Gain Semi-Finals Of French Tourney

PARIS, May 26 (AP)—The United States and Australia gained a monopoly in the men's doubles semi-finals of the French International Tennis Championships today as the top teams—Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas of the U. S. and Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall of Australia—scored straight set victories.

Meanwhile three American girls, including defending singles champion Maureen Connolly of San Diego, earned semi-final brackets in women's doubles.

Australia's youthful defending champions, Hoad and Rosewall, swept to a lopsided victory over France's Jean Borotra and Robert Abdesselam, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4. They showed no sign of the poor form which afflicted their singles play and put them both out before the semi-finals.

Trabert and Seixas were impressive almost with their smashing net play as they crushed Sven Davidson of Sweden and Neil Fraser of Australia 6-2, 8-6, 6-4.

Miss Connolly teamed with Mrs. Nelly Hopman of Australia and whipped Miss Bucajille and Jacqueline Kermina of France 6-1, 6-1 in doubles.

After defeating Tom Heeney in his second defense of the heavyweight crown in July, 1928, Gene Tunney retired and never competed again.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Native Dancer Gets 133 Pound Suburban Impost

Grey Racer Appears Strong In Workout

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — The Native Dancer story had three developments today as the racing world kept a close eye on the great grey galloper and his chances of starting in the $50,000 Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park Memorial Day.

1. The dancer galloped two miles this morning and returned to his barn apparently as solid as a silver dollar, his right forefoot showing no ill effects from a slight bruise which had appeared Monday.

2. Two hours later handicapper John B. Campbell assigned the 4-year-old champion top weight of 133 pounds for the mile and one quarter suburban. This is the most weight ever given the Dancer.

3. Owner Alfred Vanderbilt returned in mid-afternoon from Florida and said: "The 133 pounds won't stop us from running Monday if he's all right."

Under Campbell's weight the Dancer is required to concede from 8 to 41 pounds to other suburban nominees. Second highest weight is 125 pounds for Mrs. J. R.H. Thouron's Royal Vale. The weights scale off to 92 pounds for the King Ranch's Mazinga and C. V. Whitney's Counterfeit.

Native Dancer Gets 133 Pound Suburban Impost

Grey Racer Appears Strong In Workout

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP) — The Native Dancer story had three developments today as the racing world kept a close eye on the great grey galloper and his chances of starting in the $50,000 Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park Memorial Day.

1. The dancer galloped two miles this morning and returned to his barn apparently as solid as a silver dollar, his right forefoot showing no ill effects from a slight bruise which had appeared Monday.

2. Two hours later handicapper John B. Campbell assigned the 4-year-old champion top weight of 133 pounds for the mile and one quarter suburban. This is the most weight ever given the Dancer.

3. Owner Alfred Vanderbilt returned in mid-afternoon from Florida and said: "The 133 pounds won't stop us from running Monday if he's all right."

Under Campbell's weight the Dancer is required to concede from 8 to 41 pounds to other suburban nominees. Second highest weight is 125 pounds for Mrs. J. R.H. Thouron's Royal Vale. The weights scale off to 92 pounds for the King Ranch's Mazinga and C. V. Whitney's Counterfeit.

Oakland Youths Plead Guilty In Garage Fire

Judge Orders Investigation

OAKLAND—Three youths yesterday morning pleaded guilty in Garrett County Circuit Court to burning the State Roads Commission garage here while attempting to perpetrate a crime and also pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the garage.

Associate Judge George Henderson remanded the three, Charles Truman Herman, 22; Charles Wade Ashby, 18, and Perry Donald Lewis, 20, all of Oakland, to the custody of the sheriff pending an investigation by David M. Steele, probation officer.

State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover said the boys told him they accidentally set the garage afire when one of them dropped a match near some gasoline spilled while they were stealing it from a truck.

The garage caught on fire about midnight Sunday, May 16, and before the blaze was brought under control five trucks and an air compressor were damaged. The roof of the garage fell in also.

State Roads Commission officials, who praised the Oakland Fire Company for its prompt action in preventing further damage, estimated the loss at about $8,050.

Garrett County Sheriff Paul Fisher and State Trooper First Class Robert D. Henline arrested the three youths the following day.

Stuart F. Hamill Jr. was counsel for Herman and Lewis, having been appointed by the court for the latter, while Lewis R. Jones, represented Ashby.

Dr. Schuman's topic will be, "Why World War III Will Never Be Fought". He is a well-known author, educator and well-established lecturer noted for his prophetic interpretations of contemporary world politics.

He was born in Chicago in 1904, receiving his doctorate in philosophy in 1927 at the University of Chicago. He taught political and social science and international relations at his alma mater until 1936. He has also taught in Harvard, Columbia, Cornell and the University of California. Dr. Schuman does not regard World War III as "inevitable" provided that reason replaces fear, hatred, and hysteria as a guide to action. He has been the author of eleven books and is now working on a study of power politics and world order. His most well-known book is "International Politics: The Destiny of the Western State System". It was first published in 1933; and a fourth edition made in 1948.

State's Attorney W. Dwight Stover said the boys told him they accidentally set the garage afire when one of them dropped a match near some gasoline spilled while they were stealing it from a truck.

The trio had waived indictment by the grand jury and had agreed for immediate appearance before the court.

The garage caught on fire about midnight Sunday, May 16, and before the blaze was brought under control five trucks and an air compressor were damaged. The roof of the garage fell in also.

State Roads Commission officials, who praised the Oakland Fire Company for its prompt action in preventing further damage, estimated the loss at about $8,050.

Garrett County Sheriff Paul Fisher and State Trooper First Class Robert D. Henline arrested the three youths the following day.

R. Bowen Hardesty Is Named Head Of State Teacher College

Miss Compton Will Retire December 12

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of Garrett County schools, has been appointed to the presidency of Frostburg State Teachers College by the State Board of Education.

The board met in Baltimore and approved the retirement of Miss Lillian C. Compton as president of Frostburg State Teachers College to be effective December 12, 1954.

Upon the unanimous recommendation of a sub-committee, composed of William A. Gunter, Cumberland; Mrs. Ruth McCormick Tankersley, Bethesda, and Jerome Frampton, Federalsburg, Hardesty was selected to succeed Miss Compton, one of Maryland's best-known educators who has held the presidency for nearly 10 years.

Wide Experience

Hardesty comes to the new assignment with a wide background of experience in teaching and public school administration in the schools of Maryland.

A native of Calvert County, he attended Calvert County elementary schools and was graduated from Randolph-Macon Academy in Front Royal, Va., in 1928. Hardesty attended Randolph - Macon College where his uncle, Dr. Bowen, was a professor of Latin and Greek. He was graduated in 1932 with a bachelor of arts, having majored in Latin and English and minored in history.

In 1932-33, Hardesty attended Columbia University and then received his master of arts Degree in 1934. Later he studied at Western Maryland College, qualifying to teach mathematics, and took additional post-graduate work at William and Mary College and Johns Hopkins University. He continued his graduate work at Columbia University and is near the completion of the requirements for a doctor's degree.

Hardesty started his teaching career at Millersville Elementary School, Anne Arundel County, in 1933 and in 1934 transferred to Dundalk High School in Baltimore County where he taught until 1942 when he became principal of Carroll Manor Junior High School, Baltimore County. In 1946 he was appointed principal of Aberdeen High School, Harford County, where he remained until February 1948, when he was named assistant superintendent of schools in Garrett County.

Hardesty was named superintendent of Garrett County schools in December 1948, succeeding the late Frank E. Rathbun. During the course of his superintendency in Garrett County he developed an outstanding educational program and also developed a building program, of which the two new high schools in the county are an example of his planning.

Hardesty is a past member of the Oakland Rotary Club, member of the Official Board of the Oakland Methodist Church, American Association of School Administrators and other educational organizations.

He is married to the former Miss Evelyn Mattson, granddaughter of the late Rev. Frank N. Anderson, former pastor of St. Olaf's Lutheran Church in Baltimore. They have two children, Bowen Jr., 13, and Linda Ann, 2.

The appointement will leave a vacancy in the superintendency of Garrett County schools, which will be filled by the Garrett Board of Education.

Praise For Miss Compton

Miss Compton, who will be completing almost 50 years in the field of education, will reach the age of compulsory retirement in December. In approving Miss Compton retirement, the State Board of Education recalled her record in recruiting of a larger student body at the college, development of an outstanding faculty, and exercising leadership in expansion of the physical plant of the institution.

A native of Allegany County, Miss Compton began her career here in 1904 at Pennsylvania Avenue School, later became supervisor of teachers education in Sutton, W. Va., and finally was named superintendent of schools at Sutton.

She returned to Allegany County and joined the staff of the Allegany County Board of Education as supervisor of elementary schools. Later she was named assistant superintendent of schools and in 1945 assumed the duties of the presidency of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Million Dollar Tourist Center Is Considered At Black Water Falls

All-Season Park Being Contemplated

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 25 (AP)—West Virginia may try for a big league birth in the competetion for the dollar of the American tourist anxious to escape the Metropolitan heat.

The state is making tentative plans for an elaborate, million-dollar tourist attraction at Black Water Falls in Tucker County, just off U. S. 50.

Private investors are checking plans for the development-the first all-season park contemplated by the Conservation Department, said Kermit McKeever, chief of the department's parks division.

Tentative plans, prepared by McKeever and representatives of the National Park Service, call for the construction of a 60-room lodge, 50 to 75 motel-like units and a tent and trailer area with 50 sites.

It would be financed by the sale of revenue bonds to private investors, and retirement of the bonds with proceeds from tourists. The 1953 Legislature passed an enabling act for this type of financing,

Steels, Motors And Aircrafts Send Market To New Highs

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Strong demand for steels, motors, and aircrafts today sent the Stock Market swinging away to new high marks.

Bethlehem steel shot ahead 3¾ at 71 under what brokers described as heavy demand from institutions and other investors.

Steels as a whole got the benefit of rather optimistic forecasts on steel business the rest of this year at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents at $125.50. At that level, the average is equal to the highest point reached in 1930. On April 10, 1930, the average stood at $125.50.

It was followed by U. S. Steel up 1⅜ at 49, Grumman up 1⅝ at 28⅞, Republic Aviation up 2⅜ at 33½, North American Aviation up 1⅝ at 33½, and New York Shipbuilding up 1⅛ at 17⅛.

All 15 of the most active issues advanced, and 10 of the 15 were steels and aircrafts.

New York Central, whose stockholders voted today whether to oust their management in favor of Robert R. Young and his forces, was the eighth most active issue up ¼ at 23½ after hitting a high of 23⅝.

R. Bowen Hardesty Is Named Head Of State Teacher College

Miss Compton Will Retire December 12

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, superintendent of Garrett County schools, has been appointed to the presidency of Frostburg State Teachers College by the State Board of Education.

The board met in Baltimore and approved the retirement of Miss Lillian C. Compton as president of Frostburg State Teachers College to be effective December 12, 1954.

Upon the unanimous recommendation of a sub-committee, composed of William A. Gunter, Cumberland; Mrs. Ruth McCormick Tankersley, Bethesda, and Jerome Frampton, Federalsburg, Hardesty was selected to succeed Miss Compton, one of Maryland's best-known educators who has held the presidency for nearly 10 years.

Wide Experience

Hardesty comes to the new assignment with a wide background of experience in teaching and public school administration in the schools of Maryland.

A native of Calvert County, he attended Calvert County elementary schools and was graduated from Randolph-Macon Academy in Front Royal, Va., in 1928. Hardesty attended Randolph-Macon College where his uncle, Dr. Bowen, was a professor of Latin and Greek. He was graduated in 1932 with a bachelor of arts, having majored in Latin and English and minored in history.

In 1932-33, Hardesty attended Columbia University and then received his master of arts Degree in 1934. Later he studied at Western Maryland College, qualifying to teach mathematics, and took additional post-graduate work at William and Mary College and Johns Hopkins University. He continued his graduate work at Columbia University and is near the completion of the requirements for a doctor's degree.

Hardesty started his teaching career at Millersville Elementary School, Anne Arundel County, in 1933 and in 1934 transferred to Dundalk High School in Baltimore County where he taught until 1942 when he became principal of Carroll Manor Junior High School, Baltimore County. In 1946 he was appointed principal of Aberdeen High School, Harford County, where he remained until February 1948, when he was named assistant superintendent of schools in Garrett County.

Hardesty was named superintendent of Garrett County schools in December 1948, succeeding the late Frank E. Rathbun. During the course of his superintendency in Garrett County he developed an outstanding educational program and also developed a building program, of which the two new high schools in the county are an example of his planning.

Hardesty is a past member of the Oakland Rotary Club, member of the Official Board of the Oakland Methodist Church, American Association of School Administrators and other educational organizations.

He is married to the former Miss Evelyn Mattson, granddaughter of the late Rev. Frank N. Anderson, former pastor of St. Olaf's Lutheran Church in Baltimore. They have two children, Bowen Jr., 13, and Linda Ann, 2.

The appointement will leave a vacancy in the superintendency of Garrett County schools, which will be filled by the Garrett Board of Education.

Praise For Miss Compton

Miss Compton, who will be completing almost 50 years in the field of education, will reach the age of compulsory retirement in December. In approving Miss Compton retirement, the State Board of Education recalled her record in recruiting of a larger student body at the college, development of an outstanding faculty, and exercising leadership in expansion of the physical plant of the institution.

A native of Allegany County, Miss Compton began her career here in 1904 at Pennsylvania Avenue School, later became supervisor of teachers education in Sutton, W. Va., and finally was named superintendent of schools at Sutton.

She returned to Allegany County and joined the staff of the Allegany County Board of Education as supervisor of elementary schools. Later she was named assistant superintendent of schools and in 1945 assumed the duties of the presidency of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Million Dollar Tourist Center Is Considered At Black Water Falls

All-Season Park Being Contemplated

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 25 (AP)—West Virginia may try for a big league birth in the competetion for the dollar of the American tourist anxious to escape the Metropolitan heat.

The state is making tentative plans for an elaborate, million-dollar tourist attraction at Black Water Falls in Tucker County, just off U. S. 50.

Private investors are checking plans for the development-the first all-season park contemplated by the Conservation Department, said Kermit McKeever, chief of the department's parks division.

Tentative plans, prepared by McKeever and representatives of the National Park Service, call for the construction of a 60-room lodge, 50 to 75 motel-like units and a tent and trailer area with 50 sites.

It would be financed by the sale of revenue bonds to private investors, and retirement of the bonds with proceeds from tourists. The 1953 Legislature passed an enabling act for this type of financing,

Steels, Motors And Aircrafts Send Market To New Highs

NEW YORK, May 26 (AP)—Strong demand for steels, motors, and aircrafts today sent the Stock Market swinging away to new high marks.

Bethlehem steel shot ahead 3¾ at 71 under what brokers described as heavy demand from institutions and other investors.

Steels as a whole got the benefit of rather optimistic forecasts on steel business the rest of this year at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents at $125.50. At that level, the average is equal to the highest point reached in 1930. On April 10, 1930, the average stood at $125.50.

International Telephone was the day's most active issue up ⅜ at 18⅞ on 44,800 shares.

It was followed by U. S. Steel up 1⅜ at 49, Grumman up 1⅜ at 28⅞, Republic Aviation up 2⅜ at 33½, North American Aviation up 1⅝ at 33½, and New York Shipbuilding up 1⅛ at 17⅛.

All 15 of the most active issues advanced, and 10 of the 15 were steels and aircrafts.

New York Central, whose stockholders voted today whether to oust their management in favor of Robert R. Young and his forces, was the eighth most active issue up ¼ at 23½ after hitting a high of 23⅝.

Pocahontas County Voted Dry By Tally Of 1,714 To 1,621

MARLINTON, W. Va., May 26 (AP)—The drys won a local option election in Pocahontas County yesterday by a margin of 93 votes.

On the issue of abolishing the sale of liquor in the county, the drys polled 1,714 votes to 1,621.

The decision means the elimination of state liquor stores from the town of Cass and another which was established just outside the corporate limits of Marlinton, the county seat, about six months ago.

The town of Marlinton previously had voted out liquor, although the county continued wet until yesterday's special election.

Clarksburg Company Is Low Bidder On Road Construction

A Clarksburg construction company is the low bidder on the State Roads Commission project to eliminate nine-tenths of a mile of hazardous curves and a dangerous intersection on Route 40 between Little Savage River and the Finzel Road.

When bids were opened yesterday by the State Roads Commission in Baltimore, the Keely Construction Company had the low figure of $449,702.

To be relocated is the sharp curve and bridge over Little Savage River at the eastern slope of iLttle Savage Mountain. A bridge will be constructed, relocated and straightened on Route 40 over the river.

State Route 546, the Finzel Road, will be bridged across Route 40 as a deep cut will be made at the present intersection.

The approach to Finzel Road will be on the south side of the National Highway and not the north side, as at present.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 26—(INS)—Shortly before Jimmy Stewart took off for Europe he put his name on a 20th Century-Fox contract to star in "Jewel Of Bengal" for Darryl Zanuck. Part of this will be made in Pakistan, the first picture, so far as I know, that's ever had this background.

It's a thriller, believe you me, and Jimmy plays an elephant trainer who saves his pet elephant from being burned to death—and you know elephants never forget. The picture goes in October and the story is by Morton Grant and John Humphreys, with Richard Breen writing the script.

Meanwhile, Jimmy and Gloria are enjoying a vacation, the first Jimmy has had since goodness knows when.

Evangelist Billy Graham is more popular than any movie star in London. He received a tremendous reception and I've just heard that he will be the male lead in a motion picture to be made by British Producer J. Arthur Rank.

Extremely interesting is added news that beautiful Colleen Townsend, who gave up a successful career at 20th Century-Fox to go into religious work, will return to the screen to appear with Graham in this picture—it will, of course, be a religious theme.

The world is a great big wonderful place for Mickey Rooney these days. I talked with him in Las Vegas where he is playing at the Flamingo Hotel with popular Singer Eileen Barton of "If I'd Known You Were Coming I'd Have Baked A Cake" fame.

Mickey told me when he finishes in Vegas he starts work at Republic Studio in "The Atomic Kid," for his own company, with Robert Strauss producing.

"I've got the biggest scoop of all time," said Mickey. "I bought the script of 'Secrets Of The Tokyo Police' in Japan, and I've signed Peter Lorre and Wendell Corey for the leads. It will be made as an independent film. I had to pay $38 to have the script translated. Also, I have a TV show all signed and ready to go in the fall.

The last time I saw Edmund Purdom he was done up in a costume for "The Egyptian." When I stopped by the set of "Athena," he was in modern dress doing a scene with Jane Powell and Louis Calhern.

Setting in a corner were Debbie Reynolds and Vic Damone. In the picture it seems that the family of Debbie and Jane live on fruits and vegetables and nuts, and Purdom and Damone are trying to win the girls over to meat.

Purdom said he has to go back to 20th to do some dubbing on "The Egyptian." He hasn't had one day of rest between this and "Athena." Waiting for him on the sidelines were Linda Christian and Ty Power, who were at the studio with a party of friends to see a preview of "The Student Prince."

Scotland Yard has good reason to believe that the person who strangled Mrs. Violet McGrath, Michael Rennie's mother-in-law, on May 13, is a woman. At least, Michael, who has heard from Maggie Rennie, said police came to this conclusion after questioning one hot suspect after another. It's said they are now on the trail of the woman they believe did the job.

Mike, who has been staying with Hugh French, has now taken an apartment while preparing for his

IS HE A HUMAN BEING?

HAS HE ever forgotten what was the trump suit? Or played a hand with the idea that he was in a suit contract, when actually it was no trump? If he hasn't, he is not a human being. Lapses like that have been suffered by everybody who ever sat down to a card table. If you have just perpetrated one of them, the thing to do is not to be flustered over the disgrace of it all. Merely try to get it out of your mind, after apologizing to your partner, and then act on the ensuing deals the same as if the incident had never occurred.

	♠ A ♥ 9 8 ♦ 10 9 8 6 5 4 3 ♣ 10 7 5
♠ Q 10 5 3 2 ♥ K 6 5 2 ♦ None ♣ 9 8 4 2	N W E S	♠ J 9 8 7 4 ♥ 7 4 3 ♦ K 7 ♣ Q J 6
	♠ K 6 ♥ A Q J 10 ♦ A Q J 2 ♣ A K 3

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
3 ♦	Pass	6 NT

You may wait a lifetime to hear that bidding duplicated. North's call might be criticized adversely, however, but not South's to the same extent. With the risk of a spade lead covered by his guarded K, it seemed quite likely that he could get enough tricks—especially since he felt his partner probably had a stronger hand than his pre-empt indicated.

Instead of a spade, West led his fourth-best club, which drew the 10, J and K. South decided he would finesse diamonds instead of playing to fell the K with the A. So he led to the spade A and brought forth the diamond 10. When East put on the 7, South played the 2.

Thereupon he immediately woke up. Having momentarily felt as if his contract were 6-Diamonds, he all at once realized he was in 6-No Trumps and had blocked the diamond suit. With no card lower than the 9, he had to forget about scoring seven diamond tricks, being obliged to settle for four. He spotted a bare chance—if East happened to hold a singly-guarded heart K. So he tried that finesse and lost to the K. Later he had to lose a club trick, which beat his contract.

All that South had to do, to assure his contract, was play the J or Q on the first diamond trick, which was just as good a play with diamonds as trumps as what he did.

Please don't ask who made that terrifically dumb and careless error. We refuse to tell you.

IS HE A HUMAN BEING?

HAS HE ever forgotten what was the trump suit? Or played a hand with the idea that he was in a suit contract, when actually it was no trump? If he hasn't, he is not a human being. Lapses like that have been suffered by everybody who ever sat down to a card table. If you have just perpetrated one of them, the thing to do is not to be flustered over the disgrace of it all. Merely try to get it out of your mind, after apologizing to your partner, and then act on the ensuing deals the same as if the incident had never occurred.

North	East	South	West

You may wait a lifetime to hear that bidding duplicated. North's call might be criticized adversely, however, but not South's to the same extent. With the risk of a spade lead covered by his guarded K, it seemed quite likely that he could get enough tricks—especially since he felt his partner probably had a stronger hand than his pre-empt indicated.

Instead of a spade, West led his fourth-best club, which drew the 10, J and K. South decided he would finesse diamonds instead of playing to fell the K with the A. So he led to the spade A and brought forth the diamond 10. When East put on the 7, South played the 2.

Thereupon he immediately woke up. Having momentarily felt as if his contract were 6-Diamonds, he all at once realized he was in 6-No Trumps and had blocked the diamond suit. With no card lower than the 9, he had to forget about scoring seven diamond tricks, being obliged to settle for four. He spotted a bare chance—if East happened to hold a singly-guarded heart K. So he tried that finesse and lost to the K. Later he had to lose a club trick, which beat his contract.

All that South had to do, to assure his contract, was play the J or Q on the first diamond trick, which was just as good a play with diamonds as trumps as what he did.

Please don't ask who made that terrifically dumb and careless error. We refuse to tell you.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Enoch W. Fleek, who passed away 5 years ago, May 27, 1949.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear,
God knows how much we miss you,
At the end of five long years.
Sadly missed by MOTHER, BROTHERS and SISTERS

HOW ABOUT A TRADE??

Are you at the age where you would be interested in letting up a little, move out from town and take on a business? You may have members of the family who could adapt themselves to business and aid to the extent that other needed lines could be added to this set-up.

Or, you may be younger and wanting to get out on your own and take over a store and ESSO station with possibilities of expanding to a real full time business, as this once was. Much depends upon Y-O-U, the man who stands behind the counter. This place has possibilities.

Trading a city property would likely put you in possession of this opportunity.

HOW ABOUT A TRADE??

Are you at the age where you would be interested in letting up a little, move out from town and take on a business? You may have members of the family who could adapt themselves to business and aid to the extent that other needed lines could be added to this set-up.

Or, you may be younger and wanting to get out on your own and take over a store and ESSO station with possibilities of expanding to a real full time business, as this once was. Much depends upon Y-O-U, the man who stands behind the counter. This place has possibilities.

Trading a city property would likely put you in possession of this opportunity.

Four Area Men Serve Aboard Stricken Ship

One Home On Leave, Three Unheard From

At least four area men are known to be stationed aboard the stricken aircraft carrier Bennington which was rocked by a terrific explosion off the coast of Rhode Island yesterday.

Two of these men are residents of Keyser, W. Va., one a lieutenant commander. One is from Cumberland, but he is presently at home on leave. The other is from near Barrelville, this county.

No word has been received by any of the relatives concerning the three men thought to be aboard the Bennington. Efforts have been made by the families, the Red Cross and others to communicate with them or with some authority who could furnish information.

No Casualties Listed

Rep. Harley Staggers of Keyser, W.Va., reported that as far as he could determine there were no casualties from this area. However, no casualty list had been released at that time.

Assigned to the Bennington and home on leave is Lawrence S. Davis, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Davis, 607 Oldtown Road, this city. He has been in the Navy three years and is serving a four-year enlistment. Prior to entering the service he was employed as a machinist apprentice by the B&O Railroad. He is due to report back to the Bennington tomorrow.

Royden Wayne Weimer, 25, who resides on the Barrelville-Wellersburg Road in this county, has been in the Navy over three years. He is due for discharge in August. Weimer, whose mailing address is RFD 1, Hyndman Pa., was employed as a fireman of the Western Maryland Railway prior to entering service. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weimer, and is well known here as a baseball player in the Pen Mar League.

No Word Received

Members of his family have been unable to learn anything about Weimer.

Lt. Commander Charles "Chuck" Vossler of Fort Hill, Keyser, W.Va. is also aboard the ship. He was a Navy commander in World War II and was recalled to active duty almost four years ago. He is due for release June 5. Vossler is well known in Keyser and operated an insurance business there for several years prior to returning to Navy duty.

The other Keyser man is Seaman Robert Dayton, who resides at the corner of Spring and West Piedmont streets in Keyser.

Textile Workers Plan Meetings On Agreement

The Policy Committee of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO), will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the union hall to discuss the reopening of its contract with the Celanese Corporation.

Present to lead the discussion will be Wesley W. Cook, director of the TWUA's synthetic yarn division, and his assistant, John Kabler, according to Earl L. Snyder, president of the Amcelle local.

The present two-year contract is effective until August 8 but continues from year to year unless terminated by either party. If either wishes to amend the agreement, talks must begin within 10 days of the receipt of a 60-day notice.

Snyder said two special membership meetings will be held next week, on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. and Thursday at 10:30 a. m.

BROTHER DOMINIC LUKE

Men Of LaSalle Plan Communion Breakfast Here

Brother Luke To Be Guest Speaker

The 43 members of the graduating class of LaSalle High School will be honored Sunday at a Communion Breakfast in St. Patrick's Social Center following 8:30 a. m. mass at the church.

Guest speaker for the affair, being sponsored by Men Of LaSalle, will be Brother Dominic Luke, F. S. C., Ph. D., principal of St. John's College High School, Washington.

He entered the novitiate of the Christian Brothers at Ammendale and received the habit of the Brotherhood in 1928. After receiving a B. A. degree from Catholic University he was assigned to LaSalle College, Philadelphia, and in 1935 was awarded the M. A. degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

In 1945 Brother Luke was appointed president of LaSalle College and in 1953 became principal of St. John's. At present he is directing the building of a new high school and faculty house near Rock Creek Park.

Accompanying Brother Luke to Cumberland will be Brother F. Martin, F. S. C., commandant of cadets at St. John's and a native of this city.

Toastmaster for the event will be Joseph Stakem. Clergy of the three local Catholic churches have been invited to attend. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Francis Ford, chairman, Thomas Connelly and Edward Mason.

The meal will be prepared and served by the LaSalle Mothers Club with Mrs. Joseph A. Madden in charge of the committee.

Lad Thanks Police For Finding His Stolen Bicycle

A bicycle which was stolen from a local boy and later was recovered and returned by police seems to be an important item in the youngster's life.

And so Billy Staarman of 621 Hill Top Drive sat down and wrote a letter to the Police Department in appreciation of its work.

In the letter, addressed to "Officer R. E. Flynn," young Staarman said:

"I want to thank you and your police force for getting my bicycle back for me. And also for bringing it home for me. I think you done a pretty good job of it.'"

"Officer" (Chief of Police) Flynn posted the letter on the department bulletin board.

Plans Forwarded To SRC Officials

Plans for the Maryland approach to the Cumberland-Ridgeley Bridge have been forwarded to the Maryland State Roads Commission, Mayor Roy W. Eves announced yesterday afternoon.

He said the city has asked the SRC to program the approach to the new bridge as a Federal Aid urban project.

If the work is accepted under this program, the mayor said, the federal government will contribute up to half of the cost of the work.

Cost About $46,000

City engineering studies indicate the cost of the approach will be about $46,184, including engineering costs and contingencies.

This does not include an estimated $2,400 to be paid to the E. J. Albrecht Company, for 6,000 yards of fill for the bridge approach at Riverside Park, done under a bargain price of 40 cents a yard.

Placing and tamping of the fill is expected to be completed soon, as the Chicago firm is completing the last stages of Industrial Dam project, which was let for some $955,000.

Teen-Agers In Stolen Car Nabbed

Buffalo Group On Way To Florida

Plans of a group of teen-agers who reside in the vicinity of Buffalo, N. Y., to take a trip to Florida were disrupted yesterday morning when Maryland State Police arrested them near Cumberland on Route 40.

Five of the joy-riders, who reportedly were traveling in a stolen car, owned by a Buffalo resident, were nabbed near here while three more of the party were picked up later at Frederick.

State Police said the group apparently had left Buffalo sometime yesterday and had slept in the car overnight. Yesterday morning, police added, they pulled up at Kight's Service Station on Route 40 east of here and ordered some gasoline.

The driver then pulled out without paying for the gasoline. Kight notified State Police and then gave chase. The New Yorkers turned off into a side road and abandoned the car.

Three boys ranging in age from 16 to 17 and two girls, one 15 and the other about 17, were picked up near the scene by Trooper James F. Lewis. Later Trooper, John F. Browning joined in the investigation.

The other three boys managed to flee but were later nabbed in Frederick and held for questioning. Meanwhile, police added, the five teen-agers arrested here were taken to the Detention Home at the Allegany County Infirmary and are being held for authorities in Buffalo.

Also received yesterday was the commission designating Mrs. Stanley Buckley of LaValle as a member of the County Board of Education. It set her term at six years. Md. Board Begins Groundwork To End Segregation

Detailed Plan Deemed Premature

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—The State Board of Education began laying the groundwork today for eliminating racial segregation in Maryland schools and expressed confidence that local school officials "will settle this problem without resorting to chicanery or devious methods."

However, the board said "any detailed plan of action" for sending Negro and white students to school together would be "premature" until the Supreme Court sets an effective date.

Edward D. E. Rollins, state attorney general, said he and his counterparts in the 16 other states affected by the recent Supreme Court decision had been asked to submit suggestions on how the tribunal's ruling could be carried out with a minimum of confusion and delay.

Deadline October 15

The deadline for submission of these suggestions, said Rollins, is Oct. 15. The court then will study them and hand down its formal written decree outlining steps to be taken by the 17 states to end segregation in their school systems.

"With your help," Rollins told the board, "I hope to come up with a plan that will prove workable in Maryland and may be of help to the court and our sister states."

The board then approved a resolution assuring the public it will "do all within its power to work out the problem 'seemingly and in order' and in such a manner that the rights and privileges of no individual are impaired by arbitrary or capricious methods."

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools and author of the resulition, had made essentially the same statement when the nation's highest court last week declared segregation in schools unconstitutional.

"The detailed problems in respect to implementing the decision of the Supreme Court will rest primarily upon the local boards of education," the resolution said.

Problems Vary

"The problems involved in any program of integration will vary among the different school systems of the state, but we are confident that they will be solved in a fair, decent, and legal manner with good common sense.

"Furthermore, we are confident that the local school boards, the local school officials and the parents will settle this problem without resorting to chicanery or devious methods and with due regard for the rights of all parties concerned. . ."

In other actions today the board:

1. Named R. Bowen Hardesty, Garrett County superintendent of schools, to succeed Miss Lillian M. Compton as president of Frostburg State Teachers College on Dec. 12, when she reaches the compulsory retirement age.

2. Re-elected Wendell D. Allen of Baltimore president and Jerome Frampton Jr. of Federalsburg vice president.

3. Approved increases in the salaries of all state teachers college presidents from $8,825 to $10,000 a year.

4. Voted to put off any hearing of the Anne Arundel County report card controversy until a citizens committee completes a study of the situation. Many parents objected when school officials in the county favored the use of report cards indicating the progress of children in various subjects, rather than giving detailed grades for each subject.

Library Program Approved

5. Authorized its division of library extension to begin a program of adult study and discussion groups on "Our American Heritage." Miss Nettie Taylor, extension official, told the board the program would be set up in public libraries throughout the state with a grant from the American Library Assn., which she described as an independent agency of the Ford Foundation.

6. Approved Dr. J. D. Blackwell's request for retirement as president of Salisbury State Teachers College on June 30, 1955. He reaches the retirement age next fall.

Adoption of the resolution on the Supreme Court decision was unanimous after the insertion explaining the board's feeling that any action before the court's written decree is received would be "premature." The phrase made clear that the attorney general emphasized that the decree will not be handed down until after the court has received suggestions from the attorneys general on implementing its decision.

Dr. Dwight Holmes, president-emeritus of Morgan State College and the only Negro member of the board, suggested the amendment.

Buffalo Group On Way To Florida

Plans of a group of teen-agers who reside in the vicinity of Buffalo, N. Y., to take a trip to Florida were disrupted yesterday morning when Maryland State Police arrested them near Cumberland on Route 40.

Five of the joy-riders, who reportedly were traveling in a stolen car, owned by a Buffalo resident, were nabbed near here while three more of the party were picked up later at Frederick.

State Police said the group apparently had left Buffalo sometime yesterday and had slept in the car overnight. Yesterday morning, police added, they pulled up at Kight's Service Station on Route 40 east of here and ordered some gasoline.

The driver then pulled out without paying for the gasoline. Kight notified State Police and then gave chase. The New Yorkers turned off into a side road and abandoned the car.

Three boys ranging in age from 16 to 17 and two girls, one 15 and the other about 17, were picked up near the scene by Trooper James F. Lewis. Later Trooper, John F. Browning joined in the investigation.

The other three boys managed to flee but were later nabbed in Frederick and held for questioning. Meanwhile, police added, the five teen-agers arrested here were taken to the Detention Home at the Allegany County Infirmary and are being held for authorities in Buffalo.

Frederick Street Work Advertised By Maryland SRC

City officials have been advised that the State Roads Commission has requested bids on the Frederick Street improvement program here.

Estimated to cost about $480,000 the work is to be done as a federal urban aid project, which means that half of the cost is to be shared by the government.

The work will include the paving of some 7,000 feet of dirt street from Lowell Avenue to Bedford Street, near the city line. A storm sewer system for the area is also included.

City officials said they have not received notice of the date for opening of the bids.

Completion of the work will enable the city to make Frederick Street the northbound and Bedford Street the southbound approach for Route 220 traffic in Cumberland.

Court To Be Closed

Governor Names New Magistrates To County Posts

Commissions from Governor Theodore R. McKeldin for two new magistrates in Allegany County were received yesterday by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court.

Angus Turnbull was appointed trial magistrate for Lonaconing, filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Melvin S. Sloan. Sloan resigned at the governor's request when he filed for the Republican nomination for county treasurer.

Turnbull, a 43-year-old furloughed Celanese employe, has never had a previous political appointment, he said last night. He is a member of the Cumberland Eagles and of the Lonaconing Republican Club.

Orrie Lee Ravenscroft was appointed committing magistrate for McCoole, filling the post vacated with the resignation of Thomas Nash. The latter is campaigning for the Republican nomination for House of Delegates.

Both the Turnbull and Ravenscroft appointments will run until the first Monday in May 1955.

Also received yesterday was the commission designating Mrs. Stanley Buckley of LaValle as a member of the County Board of Education. It set her term at six years. But under the revised School Board Bill, as presented in 1951 by Senator Robert B. Kimble, each appointment is supposed to be for five years so that one of the five expires each year. Mrs. Buckley has been a member of the board since 1951.

At Mt. Savage nine Republicans and four Democrats were registered while in Westernport one Republican and two Democrats were signed up.

Frostburg figures show seven Republican voters being placed on the books while four Democrats were re-registered. In Lonaconing a total of three residents, including two Republicans and one Democrat, were registered.

Md. Board Begins Groundwork To End Segregation

Detailed Plan Deemed Premature

BALTIMORE, May 26 (AP)—The State Board of Education began laying the groundwork today for eliminating racial segregation in Maryland schools and expressed confidence that local school officials "will settle this problem without resorting to chicanery or devious methods."

However, the board said "any detailed plan of action" for sending Negro and white students to school together would be "premature" until the Supreme Court sets an effective date.

Edward D. E. Rollins, state attorney general, said he and his counterparts in the 16 other states affected by the recent Supreme Court decision had been asked to submit suggestions on how the tribunal's ruling could be carried out with a minimum of confusion and delay.

Deadline October 15

The deadline for submission of these suggestions, said Rollins, is Oct. 15. The court then will study them and hand down its formal written decree outlining steps to be taken by the 17 states to end segregation in their school systems.

"With your help," Rollins told the board, "I hope to come up with a plan that will prove workable in Maryland and may be of help to the court and our sister states."

The board then approved a resolution assuring the public it will "do all within its power to work out the problem 'seemingly and in order' and in such a manner that the rights and privileges of no individual are impaired by arbitrary or capricious methods."

Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools and author of the resulition, had made essentially the same statement when the nation's highest court last week declared segregation in schools unconstitutional.

"The detailed problems in respect to implementing the decision of the Supreme Court will rest primarily upon the local boards of education," the resolution said.

Problems Vary

"The problems involved in any program of integration will vary among the different school systems of the state, but we are confident that they will be solved in a fair, decent, and legal manner with good common sense.

"Furthermore, we are confident that the local school boards, the local school officials and the parents will settle this problem without resorting to chicanery or devious methods and with due regard for the rights of all parties concerned. . ."

In other actions today the board:

1. Named R. Bowen Hardesty, Garrett County superintendent of schools, to succeed Miss Lillian M. Compton as president of Frostburg State Teachers College on Dec. 12, when she reaches the compulsory retirement age.

2. Re-elected Wendell D. Allen of Baltimore president and Jerome Frampton Jr. of Federalsburg vice president.

3. Approved increases in the salaries of all state teachers college presidents from $8,825 to $10,000 a year.

4. Voted to put off any hearing of the Anne Arundel County report card controversy until a citizens committee completes a study of the situation. Many parents objected when school officials in the county favored the use of report cards indicating the progress of children in various subjects, rather than giving detailed grades for each subject.

Library Program Approved

5. Authorized its division of library extension to begin a program of adult study and discussion groups on "Our American Heritage." Miss Nettie Taylor, extension official, told the board the program would be set up in public libraries throughout the state with a grant from the American Library Assn., which she described as an independent agency of the Ford Foundation.

6. Approved Dr. J. D. Blackwell's request for retirement as president of Salisbury State Teachers College on June 30, 1955. He reaches the retirement age next fall.

Adoption of the resolution on the Supreme Court decision was unanimous after the insertion explaining the board's feeling that any action before the court's written decree is received would be "premature." The phrase made clear that the attorney general emphasized that the decree will not be handed down until after the court has received suggestions from the attorneys general on implementing its decision.

Dr. Dwight Holmes, president-emeritus of Morgan State College and the only Negro member of the board, suggested the amendment.
